KING CABINET IS READY TO LEAVE OFFICE

All Ministers of Liberal Government Attend Final Ottawa Meeting

PREMIER-ELECT MAY BE SWORN IN TODAY

Senator Gideon Robertson Is Likely to Be Head of Labor Department

KING CABINET IS READY TO LEAVE OFFICE

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Aug. 6.—The Government is now ready to turn over the responsibilities of office to the incoming administration, declared the Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, following a meeting of the cabinet here today.

The probabilities indicated Mr. Bennett would be sworn in today or tomorrow, and it was likely, the Premier intimated, that he would see the Governor-General within the next twenty-four hours and tender the resignation of the Government.

Mr. Mackenzie King recalled that it was eleven years ago tomorrow that he was appointed leader of the Liberal party, and declared it would be a coincidence if the date of his surrendering Prime of government synchronized with that anniversary.

Nine of the eleven years had been passed in office, and with the record which the Government had established, said the Prime Minister, he was well content. In opposition, the outgoing administration would be very strong. With such veteran Parliamentarians as will adorn the front benches of the Opposition, the Premier thought they would be able to carry out their functions vigorously.

IN BEST OF SPIRITS

"We had an excellent meeting and everybody was in the best of spirits," declared the Prime Minister. "Everything is now ready to be turned over.

RESERVE BANK PLAN FAVORED IN AUSTRALIA

Bill Has Passed House of Representatives, but Senate Delays Action

FURTHER INFORMATION WANTED BY COMMITTEE

(Canadian Press Cable)

CANBERRA, Australia, Aug. 6.—A select committee of the Senate, to which was referred the bill for creation of a central reserve bank, recommended that the opinion of Sir Otto Niemeyer, British financial expert now visiting Australia, be acquired and the question deferred until 1931.

While favoring delay the report of the committee does not condemn outright the principle of the reserve bank, which is described as a "desirable adjunct to the financial system, provided it performs the true functions of a reserve bank and is assured of freedom from political control."

The bill in question which has already been passed by the House of Representatives, authorized the establishment of a central reserve bank, apart from the Commonwealth Bank, on lines similar to those of the South African Central Reserve Bank.

The Senate referred the bill to a select committee on July 16. The Government of Premier J. H. Scullin refused to approve this step and in consuming a plan to submit the bill for a second time in the House of Representatives early next year.

Helicopter Makes Hop To France

By W. D. WHITE
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

LE BOURGET FIELD, France, Aug. 6.—Jean de la Cierva, the Spanish inventor of the helicopter, made a dramatic landing tonight on his arrival from a trip begun to England yesterday.

The helicopter, which has a sort of windmill apparatus that revolves above the fuselage, hovered over the field for ten minutes and then descended absolutely vertically from 1,000 feet.

TRANCONTINENTAL SPEED MARK MADE

Frank Hawks Establishes Record in Flight From New York to Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6.—Frank Hawks, who began a transcontinental flight from Curtiss Field, New York, at 6 a.m. (E.S.T.) today, landed at the municipal airport here at 4:30:43 p.m. (P.S.T.).

Hawks spent 14 hours, 30 minutes and 43 seconds en route, and stopped five times to refuel his Travelair plane.

There has been no transcontinental speed flight exactly comparable to the one made today, but Hawks clipped 3 hours, 21 minutes and 11 seconds off the 18 hours, 42 minutes, 84 seconds record Roscoe Turner made on a nonstop East-West crossing of the country last May 27.

Hawks, in addition to holding the record for the fastest East-West crossing of the continent ever made, holds the nonstop East-West record of 18 hours, 16 minutes and 32 seconds.

SAYS AIRSHIP TAKES THRILL FROM FLYING

By W. D. WHITE
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

TORONTO, Aug. 6.—When you ship into your air liner, within the next few years, for a little jaunt to England, don't forget to have a pack of cards tucked away in your pocket and a book or so under your arm. This was the advice of Major O. H. Scott, commanding officer of the R-100, who spoke here today as the guest of honor of the Empire Club of Toronto.

For the airship, said Major Scott, has lost the thrill out of flying and made travel even more comfortable than that of the ocean wave. And within a few short years one may expect to see a regular airship service between Canada and the Old Country, continued Major Scott—a service which will whisk a business man to England in three days and bring him a reply to a letter written a week of the latter's writing.

The airship commander refused to admit the flight of the R-100 was "a wonderful feat" but he was willing to accept congratulations on its success. It was but a natural journey and, comparatively speaking, without danger. It had been successful because its purpose was to "show Canada that we in Great

GOV'T MAKES BOLD MOVE TO MEET PROBLEM

Transvaal Ministry Will Give Subsidies to Firms Employing Whites

PROPOSAL IS BY NO MEANS DOLE SYSTEM

PRETORIA, Transvaal, South Africa, Aug. 6.—A bold move to tackle the problem of the "poor whites"—those unemployable assisted command a white man's salary while their dependents must get with less—has been made by the Provincial Government of the Transvaal. Summed up in a nutshell, the government intends to give subsidies to firms employing whites in non-supervisory positions in order that the wage standard of these European boys be raised.

It is hoped the new scheme may solve the important problem of unemployment and divert large numbers of unfitted to work in the mines and in agriculture. Both these branches of industry at present are experiencing a severe shortage of labor.

The employment of Europeans in jobs now held by natives would be encouraged by subsidy for a period of one year. The system will be introduced for a start, in those industries dealing purely with the preparing of foodstuffs. The

Ancient Locomotive Donated by C.P.R. to Exhibition

VANCOUVER, Aug. 6.—Curly, a tiny, lofty-funneled woodburning locomotive, no longer plies the oak and timber of modern giants of the rails, was the central figure in a dedication ceremony at the opening of the "coming of the railway" exhibit here today, when the historic engine was dedicated by the Vancouver Exhibition Board to C. A. Cridwick, general superintendent of the British Columbia district, Canadian Pacific Railway.

Veteran of more than fifty years' service and a link with the stirring days of early railway building in British Columbia, the faithful old iron horse built somewhere in the Eastern United States in the 1870's. It worked on construction of a short American railway, and in 1879 came with Crooks to Lansdowne in the brilliant but unsuccessful effort of the French to put through the Panama Canal.

The old locomotive came to British Columbia in 1881, and from then until 1885 worked on construction of the C.P.R. main line between Kamloops and the old Pacific terminus of Port Moody. It derived its name from the nickname of a curly-haired engineer who first drove it in British Columbia, Mr. Cotterell, explained.

In 1890 the locomotive found another "job" in the logging business with the B.C. Mills & Timber Co., being abandoned about 1910. Last Winter the old relic was taken to the local C.P.R. shops, cleaned, repaired and painted, and presented by the Canadian Pacific to the exhibition board as a display piece at the exhibition grounds.

His Majesty Wins First Yacht Race Since Illness Prevented Participation

Zest of Victory Removed Through Sinking of Competitor in Accident

COWES, Isle of Wight, Aug. 6.—The King, on board the royal yacht Britannia, today scored a decisive victory over his friends, who had lost the zest of victory by witnessing the sinking of one of his competitors and the drowning of a steward.

The present regatta is His Majesty's first yachting adventure since his serious illness, and by winning the Britannia challed up its 200th victory.

WAS EXCITING RACE

The race was exciting and through witnessing it ashore. The result was popular and greeted with rousing cheers when the royal craft went over the mark half a minute ahead of White Heather.

The Lutitia was hit fairly by A. Proton's big cutter, the Lulworth, and smashed so badly she remained afloat less than three minutes, the Lulworth rescuing the survivors of the Lutitia's crew, abandoning the race.

WITNESSED TRAGEDY

The Britannia was nearby and the King and other members of the royal family were standing on her deck, from which they saw the tragedy. As the yacht swept on in the lead with the Astra, White Heather and Westward came up behind.

The drowned man was the steward of the Lutitia.

FIRE HAZARD IS REPORTED GREAT

WARNINGS ISSUED HERE

The second general fire warning within the week was sent out by officials of the forest protection branch of the Department of Lands yesterday, consequent on reports of extremely hazardous conditions prevailing throughout the province and likely to continue for some days yet.

Forestry officials acted on the strength of reports from Mr. Hagler Dawson, Dominion meteorologist at Pacific Hill Observatory, which showed low humidity over a wide area, and the prospect of continuing hot and dry weather for some time to come.

With several fires of serious proportions now raging in the province and every condition present for a burst of fresh outbreaks, rangers and lookouts of the service are straining every effort to keep known fires in check, and to smother new outbreaks as they occur.

The co-operation of the general public, particularly those who enter the woods in the next few days, is earnestly solicited by the service. Camp fires should be carefully watched, and kept down wherever there is a wind. Cigar, cigarette butts and pipe ashes should be stamped out thoroughly, and all measures taken to ensure that unpreventable outbreaks will not be added to by fires that can be averted with due care on the part of the touring public.

PROMINENT LIVESTOCK MAN DEAD IN ONTARIO

BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 6.—W. A. Clemons, fifty-eight, secretary of the Canadian Holstein-Friesian Association, and prominent in livestock circles throughout Canada, died here tonight.

He joined the Holstein-Friesian Association in 1891. From 1906 to 1912 he was stationed at Ottawa, returning to St. George in 1912 as livestock record clerk, shortly afterwards becoming secretary-treasurer.

When the Dominion Association established headquarters in Brantford in 1920, Mr. Clemons moved here.

HEAT WAVE CONTINUES UNABATED ON PRAIRIE

Grain Fields of West Are Bared Again—Danger of Rust Increases

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 6.—Grain fields, already parched by the torrid heat wave of last week, today were seared again today as the heat wave continued unabated in the western provinces of Canada.

Reports from many wheat-growing areas were far from favorable, as the abnormal weather brought the crop along prematurely and increased the danger of rust. Already, it was reported, rust has received serious proportions in sections of Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Grey clouds tonight gave promise of showers. At least in Manitoba, but to the west to the mid-western provinces little relief was in sight. Today, many areas registering high marks for the year, as the mercury climbed rapidly, especially in Northern Alberta, where Edmonton district reported the hottest day of the year with a reading of 96 degrees.

Temperatures of 90 or more were common in Manitoba and Saskatchewan today. Winnipeg and district reported a maximum of 91; Regina, where 101 was reached a week ago, and Yorkton, 90, while Moose Jaw, to the West, had 92. Medicine Hat, Alta., took top honors for the West with 94.

A few scattered thunder showers was the best the weather man could offer for Thursday. "Mostly fair and warm" was his prediction.

Flyers Near 400th Hour in Endurance Plane at St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 6.—Cheerful and still expressing determination to set a new world's record for sustained flight, Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brine tonight were near their 400th hour in their endurance plane Greater St. Louis.

Late tomorrow, if still aloft, they will pass their former world record of 420 hours and thirty minutes, set a year ago, and will have less than a week to go to break the 504-hour record of the Hunter brothers.

British Rifle and Machine Gun Units Depart for Hankow

More Troops Will Be Sent Friday to Protect Interests in Communist Menaced Area in China—Japanese Destroyers With Marines Proceed to Kiangsi Province

Release of Missionaries Is Sought

By ARCHIBALD SWINTLAND
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 7.—Commanded by five officers, 110 men of the British 2nd Battalion of Green Howards sailed at dawn today aboard the British merchant ship Siangtse for Communist-threatened Hankow, where they will probably be placed aboard the British cruiser Cumberland and, if necessary, landed to protect British interests. The ship was provided with supplies and boarded last night.

An additional platoon of the same regiment will in all probability embark tonight and sail early tomorrow.

POLICE GUARD DOCKS

Military police are guarding the docks, as the embarkations proceed, the men marching aboard ship during the early hours, long before (Shanghai) foreign residents realize that a troop movement is on.

Six twenty-fourth Japanese destroyer flotilla, three units, arrived last night from the Sasebo naval base. It was to be joined by additional destroyers today and then sail immediately for Kiukiang with a detachment of marines.

This sudden determination to transport troops to the Communist-menaced area of Hankow and Kiukiang comes as a result of the Nanking Government's published announcement to Washington that it is unable to guarantee protection for American and other foreign residents of Hankow.

MAY GROW WORSE

It also comes at a time when Hankow reports the situation less tense with Hankiing troops rescuing Changsha as well as with the sending of additional Nationalist forces to the Hankow districts. Nonetheless it is generally believed here that the Communist situation is likely to grow worse before it is finally improved.

The troops sailing today comprise a composite company with machine guns as well as equipment to make an extended stay ashore, if necessary. The first detachment of British troops, which is the first step in foreign intervention, is due to arrive in Hankow Sunday.

URGENT REPRESENTATIONS

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The British Government today made urgent representations to the Nanking Government for the release of the missionaries, Miss Edith Nettleton and Miss E. J. Harrington, being held for $50,000 ransom.

It was Miss Nettleton, whose finger had been reported cut off and mailed in a letter demanding $50,000.

Minister Lampson, in Peiping, asked the Chinese Government today, if these threats thrown at further outrages were carried out, the result would be a deplorable and disastrous reaction of public opinion throughout the world, and that the nine people and Government would be disgraced.

WILLING TO PAY RANSOM

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The Church Missionary Society has given its private representative authority to pay the ransom demanded by the captors of Edith Nettleton and Miss Harrington, Australian missionaries, if the British Consul thinks consider is necessary to accomplish their release. The amount demanded was $50,000 Chinese or about $10,000 gold.

BRIAND PLAN FOR TRADE IS PROGRESSING

Twenty-Six Countries Express Views on Move for European Union

WILL PRESENT REPORT FOR LEAGUE MEETING

PARIS, Aug. 6.—Foreign Minister Briand today had before him replies from all of the twenty-six countries invited to the formation of an economic union of European states.

The Foreign Minister has made several tentative drafts of his report on the replies and spent last night to add to his survey the answer of Russia which had to be received.

It is thought today said he probably would consult the various ambassadors at Paris before the preparation of his report, in an effort to evolve a formula which would be satisfactory to all of the powers asked to participate.

He announced that he would, as soon as possible, send his report to the twenty-six foreign offices. This, he planned, would be done before the September assembly at Geneva, so the conference could be thoroughly prepared for a discussion of the proposed union and its international problems.

PREDICT NEW RIVALRY IN NAVY PLANS

French Experts Say Race Is for Quality Instead of Quantity

LONDON NAVAL TREATY IS CAUSE OF CHANGES

By PAUL SCOTT MOWRER
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

PARIS, France, Aug. 6.—French naval experts, who have been studying the terms of the London Naval Treaty, are unanimous in the conclusion that it will lead to a new rivalry of quality rather than quantity. Nations, they think, will now try to squeeze a maximum of fighting power into a minimum of tonnage.

One element of this relative increase in strength is the mounting of various classes of warships with airplanes. Another is the new German model "pocket battleship," the Ersatz Preussen, which will actually be launched a few days hence. Still another will be the new French 22,000-ton battleship which will be begun next year. Incidentally, Italy is building a series of "wonder" cruisers of slightly over 5,000 tons.

CHANGE OF POWER

Other consequences of the London treaty, as seen by experts here, may be listed thus:

1. Great Britain renounces three centuries of naval hegemony. The strategic naval superiority passes to the United States, which can concentrate its action easily, whereas the British fleet, having to defend world-wide Empire, is necessarily dispersed. It was the superiority of the British fleet, according to the French, which brought the downfall of Napoleon and broke the German resistance in the world war, while it was a momentary deficiency in this fleet, which in reality, they say, lost the American colonies to Great

Says Outlook of Canadian Wheat Farmer Much Improved

TORONTO, Aug. 6.—"Drought and bad harvesting conditions in other parts of the world are today resulting in advantageous position for Canada, but it is necessary for adjusting production to consumption in a manner that will lessen the bad effects of slump over to undermine that yet remains unimpaired," said Hon. John Bracken tonight. The Manitoba Premier was commenting on the brightened outlook for the Canadian farmer in the wheat markets of the world.

He said the decreased harvesting prices of wheat and satisfied at having completed the task for which they traveled to Toronto, Premier Bracken, with Premiers Brownlee of Alberta and Premier Anderson of Saskatchewan, all expressed optimistic predictions for Canadian grains. The three Premiers left together for Ottawa tonight, after it was announced the Canadian banks had promised to carry the unsold balance of the 1928 wheat crop. The announcement followed a conference of leading bank managers, the three Premiers and Wheat Pool officials.

Hon. Mr. Bracken, who acted as spokesman for the party, said an increase in price had been anticipated for some time. "The serious drought in the Southwestern States and unfortunate harvesting conditions in mid-Europe have intensified the factors determining prices," he said. "The result has been that the increase has been much more rapid and has gone further than was expected in such a short time."

Fire Brigade Was Called to Remove Boy From Barrel

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—Harry Hampstein, six, jumped in a barrel of tar. The smells in 90 degrees heat and Harry could not jump out again. His chums could not pull him out; a crowd of 800 gathered, full of suggestions but not much help. Somebody decided it was a matter for the police department. A policeman came, saw, and called the fire department. An engine responded to the alarm. The firemen had a bright idea. They turned a hose on the tar. The cold water hardened the tar and then the firemen chopped young Harry out.

AFRIDIS RAISE HOSTILE FORCE NEAR FRONTIER

BBRITISH OFFICIALS WARNING VILLAGERS

SIMLA, India, Aug. 6.—Fresh uneasiness today was recorded for upon India's northwest Northwest frontier, where for decades raids by fierce tribesmen have terrorized the inhabitants.

While parties of raiders have been bombed from their caves by the air forces this year, one driven back the hills by British ground troops, the young men of the Afridis are once more looking toward Peshawar and the promise of loot it holds.

These fighting youths, inflamed by speeches of their mullahs, have raised a lashkar or hostile force, which is slowly moving down the Bara Valley ostensibly to take recruits as it goes.

British officials have warned all villagers along the route of march and are taking precautions to stem any trouble.

Otherwise, India passed a quiet day, but a new angle on the National Congress campaign was seen in an official communique issued at Ocata-camund, Summer headquarters of the Madras Government.

The communique stated that thus far only persons who have been charged or convicted in connection with the civil disobedience movement in the Madras presidency have apologized and promised to refrain from similar future activities. Consequently they were released.

TWO LOSE LIVES IN ONTARIO FIRE

Were Overcome by Smoke When Blaze Broke Out in Rooming House

THREE OTHERS INJURED

SUDBURY, Ont., Aug. 6.—In a fire which broke out about 4 o'clock this morning in a new wing under construction of the McAndrew Rooming House, on Station Street, and spread to the older part of the building, J. Brandes, traveling oculist, of Montreal, sixty-five, and Robert Arnold, lumberjack, fifty-five, were overcome by smoke and died before they could be reached. Arthur Keppis, Franco-American, who had worked in lumber camps around Sudbury for years, was also overcome by smoke, but was revived by firemen with a pulmotor.

Robert Millington was badly cut and bruised when he leaped out of a second-story window, while William Carr, another roomer, was burned in attempting to make his escape.

The fire was discovered by Dr. W. J. Cook, who was passing and turned in the alarm. He aroused A. McAndrew, brother of the proprietor, F. A. McAndrew, who rushed through the building arousing the sleeping occupants.

It was some time after the alarm was given that the absence of Brandes and Arnold was noted. Firemen located Arnold, but were unable to find Brandes. It was not until the fire had been extinguished that he was found dead in the hall from his own room, his sample case lying on the floor beside him. He was evidently overcome just before reaching the window.

Should the Government's resignation be offered to His Excellency tomorrow, the procedure will be for the Prime Minister to proceed to Government House and formally announce his resignation, advising the Governor-General to summon Mr. Bennett, the new Prime Minister, who will proceed to Government House with the members of his cabinet, and take the oath of office. Following this ceremony, the new Government will return and hold a cabinet council to decide upon the date of the by-elections.

The constitution requires that a number of Parliament, on being appointed to a cabinet position, must seek the approval of his constituents before assuming office. Usually, when such appointments come immediately subsequent to a general election, the ministers are given acclamations.

ENTIRE CABINET PRESENT

The entire cabinet was present today, including the new ministers, Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Hon. Cyrus Macmillan and Hon. W. P. Key. This was Mr. Mackenzie's first cabinet council and will, of course, be his last for some considerable time to come. Hon. C. A. Dunning and Hon. Loren Cannon, two defeated ministers, were also present. Prior to the meeting a group photograph of the retiring cabinet was taken. This is a souvenir of our long association in government, the Prime Minister said.

There was nothing of gloom on the faces of the ministers as they left the Privy Council chamber. They laughed and chatted together and many of them shook hands with the newspaper men who were present in the expectation of a definite announcement being made.

The Prime Minister was in a cheerful mood. He hands with the reporters and chatted with them for several minutes. "Our last meeting," he said.

WILL ENJOY REST

He intimated the relief from the burden of administrative responsibility would give him an opportunity to rest. Nine years in office had been something of a strain, but those nine years had been fruitful of legislation that established for his administration an excellent record, said the outgoing King.

He was asked if any appointments had been made at today's meeting and shook his head. All appointments now pending would be made by Mr. Bennett's Government, he observed. One meeting had been a routine affair, occupied chiefly with clearing away minor matters in order to give the incoming cabinet a clean slate to work on. He was ready now to turn things over to the new Prime Minister at any time, and that time depended entirely upon what progress Mr. Bennett had made with the forming of his cabinet.

While the Government was holding its last council meeting, Mr. Bennett, a stone's throw away, was greatly occupied in writing out the personnel of his own administration. His was the business office in the capital today, with many newspaper men calling upon him. From Nova Scotia were W. G. Ernst and Thomas Cantley; from New Brunswick, Dr. Murray MacLaren and Thomas Bell; from Quebec, Maurice Dupre, Alfred Duranleau, Arthur Sauve and C. H. Cahan. Ontario had a number of representatives interviewing the Premier-elect, while Hon. H. H. Stevens, Hon. Robert Rogers, Colonel H. Mullins and several other Westerners also called.

No official intimation of the personnel of the new Conservative administration will be made before tomorrow afternoon has yet been made. In political circles, however, the likely composition of the new cabinet is very much under Premier-elect Hon. R. B. Bennett, is forecast as follows:

PROBABLE SLATE

Minister of Justice—Hon. Hugh Guthrie (Wellington).

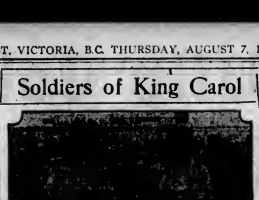
Minister of Interior—T. G. Murphy (Neepawa).

Minister of Labor—Senator G. D. Robertson.

Minister of Agriculture—Robert Weir (Manitou).

Minister of Railways and Canals

Soldiers of King Carol



Soldiers of King Carol Meet on a Shopping Tour, but Note That They Carry Their Guns. Since All Soldiers Are Pressed into Service Guard to Prevent Further Anti-Semitic Outrages.

—Hon. J. R. Manion (Fort William).

Minister of National Revenue—Hon. E. B. Ryckman (Vancouver).

Minister of Marine — Alfred Duranleau (Chambly-Verchères).

Postmaster-General—Arthur Sauve (Laval-Two Mountains).

Minister of Fisheries—W. G. Ernst (Queens-Lunenburg); or possibly, Hon. W. A. Black (Halifax).

Solicitor-General—Maurice Dupre (Quebec West).

Ministers without portfolio—Hon. George Perley (Argentenia) and Hon. J. A. Macdonald (Kings, P.E.I.).

If K. B. Cahan (St. Lawrence-St. George) does not become Speaker of the House of Commons or Secretary of State, it is likely that L. O. Bell (Bell, Antigonish) will be Solicitor-General, and Mr. Dupre would probably become Secretary of State. The appointee of the portfolio of immigration is in doubt, although W. N. Gordon, elected in South Timiskaming, is mentioned for cabinet recognition.

DAY OF KEEN ANXIETY

This has been a day of keen anxiety and not a few heart-burnings. Tonight, men, the faces of some bore as they awaited decision which will put them into the Government or leave them out, as here from every province. In addition to those who hope for office being selected, are many who are not expecting positions themselves but are urging the claims of others. The timing included members-elect, heads of party organizations, and stalwart Conservatives of every walks of life. Everyone seemed to be talking about the long hours of suspense. The discussions kept up in low tones groups of twos and threes and fours. At the home of Mr. Bennett, and Hon. Hugh Guthrie, streams of people and all eyes were on them. "Will it be tomorrow?" Mr. Bennett was asked. "I really cannot say yet," he replied. "They took the elevator and disappeared. The conversations continued.

GOV'T MAKES BOLD MOVE TO MEET PROBLEM

government has already made successful overtures to the proprietors of large bakeries. One bakery in Wilmerdersand, near Johannesburg, alone employs 1,800 natives.

When they are replaced by unskilled European, now unemployed, the firms will pay them the wages now paid to natives under the provisions of the Wage Act, and the Government undertakes to refund the earnings into line with European standards. The year's period will be regarded as an apprenticeship and should European workers show aptitude and progress in their new trades, it is hoped the employing firms will, as much as possible, place them in responsible positions.

The Provincial Government emphasizes that the scheme is by no means a "dole" system, but is hoped will be a corrective for a bad situation, and a chance for out-of-work whites to make good.

Capital of Great Khan Loses Place

SAMARKAND, Uzbekistan, Soviet Republic, Aug. 6—Samarkand, for centuries one of the most sacred places in Moslem Asia and home of the famous conqueror, Tamerlane, today lost its place as capital of the Uzbekistan Soviet Republic to Tashkent.

The Uzbekistan Government made the transfer because Tashkent, as the principal industrial city of Turkestan, has a superior geographical location and is accessible to important central regions.

SAYS AIRSHIP TAKES THRILL FROM FLYING

ROUTINE OF SHIPS

Routine of the ship was practically the same as that of an ocean liner in respect of its watches, its entertainments and fare. There was quiet, very little sensation and for a while little fear because of the sky and sea. It was a ship of routine, indisputably between its commander declared. Though the British ideals of sportsmanship, stoicism areas "did take a bit of doing." "You may be wondering," exclaimed Major Scott, "at the uniform I wear. It is the uniform of the Aerial Merchant Service and it is the first time it has been worn on a flight. (Cheers). "For we hope to be the travelers of a commercial route and a commercial service. We do not care, nor are we interested in possibilities of the airship in war. We are meant to work for peace and to work in peace."

PREPARE FOR FLIGHT

ST. HUBERT AIRPORT, MONTREAL, Aug. 6—If all goes well the motors of the giant British dirigible R-100 will be heard singing their song of power this week-end for the first time since the ship arrived from Cardington last Friday.

In an official statement issued late tonight, announcement is made that the dirigible will leave the mooring tower for the night over Ottawa and Toronto—providing weather conditions are favorable and results in her damaged stabilizing fin are completed.

The announcement says: "Provided the repair to the R-100 are completed satisfactorily and weather conditions are favorable there is reason to believe that the flight over Ottawa and Toronto will be made over this week-end."

Unofficially it was reported later that the vessel would leave the mast on Sunday afternoon, flying over Ottawa that night and over Toronto on Monday, returning to Montreal at dusk. This could not be confirmed tonight, however.

REPAIR WORK PROGRESSES

Repair work on the stabilizing fin damaged when the R-100 struck bad weather near Father Point, while en route from Cardington, has made steady progress. The linen panels replacing the torn fabric are in place and today two riggers sat astrodd below a thrill when they "sealed" the seams of the panels as the ship floated 200 feet up. In a message to newspapers it was announced that repairs would be completed within forty-eight hours, which would see their completion on Friday morning.

WELL DIGGER KILLED WHEN RIGGING BROKE AND CRIBBING CAVED

EVERETT, Wash., Aug. 6—Newell Smith Davis, seventy-seven, a well digger, was killed near Whidbey Island, was believed killed today when rigging broke and he dropped to the bottom of a ninety-foot well. The body was not recovered late today, as decayed cribbing and caving earth made rescue hazardous. Fellow workmen, who attempted to rescue Davis, were lowered, and they believed him dead as they had heard no sound from the well.

U.S. CITY DOUBLY DRY

SHELBYVILLE, Ky., Aug. 6.—This city tonight was without water, the supply being cut at 5 p.m. when the reservoir supplying the city ran dry.

A special train of twelve tank cars filled with water is to arrive in the morning from Louisville.

EXPECT FEDERAL AID FOR ONTARIO ROADS

Globe Says Dominion Will Restore the Provincial Grants Ended by Liberals

"Re-establishment of the former Dominion Government payments to Ontario, in respect of highways, agricultural instruction and technical education, will, it is understood be undertaken by the Bennett administration soon after it assumes office.

"This will mean some $2,500,000 in revenue annually for the province, which otherwise would not be available.

Highways payments from Ottawa ceased in 1927; agricultural instruction payments expired in 1923, and technical payments are also practically a thing of the past.

"It is also reported that the extensions work of the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway in recent years is to be subsidized by the Bennett Government at the $6,400 per mile rate supplying under extension arrangements on which was paid on the original T. & N.O. main line.

SAANICH CLUB ISSUES REPORT

Progress Shown in All Activities of Service Organization for Year

RESERVE IS INCREASED

Highly encouraging to the membership and complimentary to the officers in charge, as well as giving a comprehensive idea of the activities of the club during the past year, the annual report of the board of directors of the North Saanich Service Club, Inc., was presented for the annual meeting of the organization held recently.

The financial statement, included in the report, shows the club to have a reserve savings account of the value of $4,768.48, and no liabilities, the reserve being an increase over the preceding year of $463.16, notwithstanding considerable improvements and betterments for service projects having been effected. The standing of the club is considered exceptionally good in view of the fact that it is entirely a self-supporting institution.

OBJECTS OF THE CLUB

The objects for which the club was incorporated in August, 1926, are: "To promote and encourage the British ideals of sportsmanship, which are the groundwork of our British institutions," i.e., courtesy to women, fair play to all and service to all who need it; support of the under dog; esprit de corps; playing the game for the game's sake; social intercourse, mutual helpfulness and mental and moral improvement and recreation.

The opening of last year saw the club established to the extent that it was in a position to enter 160 per cent into the field of service work and the results and the universal benefit have fully confirmed the wisdom of this decision, the report states. Among the best of these the committee in charge of that section of the club's activities reports great encouragement to the efforts of the members in charge. During the year the committee arranged various forms of sport and recreation, all of which proved successful, and concluded with a picnic and field day on the North Saanich School grounds. The sports activities included card games, tournaments, dances and refreshments. During the year a series of social evenings were held, including talks by prominent Victorians were given and were followed by refreshments and a short dance.

ANNUAL BANQUET PLANS

The annual banquet of the club, the principal function of the year, will be held on Saturday, September 20, and will be attended by the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, who is a member of the club; the Premier of British Columbia, Dr. R. P. Tolmie; Miss Margaret Bruce Macdonald, chairman of Government House, and others. The banquet will be followed by a musical programme and venison will be served, the hunting party having a week previous to secure the necessary meats for the occasion.

Among the items of betterments ended for 1930 is the addition of a combination dining hall and gymnasium, which is in charge of the works committee. Ground improvement is being held in abeyance until the completion of the hall and gymnasium, to conclude the report, a story of the club of accomplishing work as funds are available.

In the report complimentary reference is made to the work of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and to the officers and members of the various committees for their efforts during the year. Special reference is made in the report to the MacFarlane and Matson Cups for girls and boys, and it is stated that, in allocating the trophies, the donors expressly wish it understood that the cups are in no way awarded to the boy or girl, whose natural gifts enable him or her, without any special effort, to accomplish results in studies and sports, but for the boy or girl who, though not so specially endowed, through honest and determined effort and sportsmanship strives to accomplish results as typified by Kipling's "If."

In concluding their report the directors extend their personal thanks to the various business interests for their support and co-operation in the club affairs. The report is signed by the following: A. Sansbury, president; Mrs. R. J. Readings, vice-president; C. E. Jeffery, treasurer; H. L. Ricketts and Bert Beddings.

Britain. It is concluded, therefore, that this shifting of power is of immense historical significance.

ZONES OF INFLUENCE

2. The United States, Japan and Great Britain have virtually divided the world into three zones of influence, wherein each is safe and predominant as far as the others are concerned. These three powers were able to agree because they are separated from one another by vast distances which give each superiority in home waters. A similar agreement between France and Italy is impossible because these two countries are close neighbors. Consequently, writes Rene La Bruyere, in the Revue Journal de France, "in the world chess game the little Mediterranean appears as a vitalize centre around which a tempest of clamor, threatens and anticipations now turns."

3. Finally, it is believed that countries with shipyards will hence-forth compete more and more at low prices with the help of Government subsidies to build warships for foreign powers. These foreign orders, it is declared, will keep navy yards at work, and in case of a crisis the ships can be requisitioned. Thus Italy is now building cheaply for foreign account two cruisers, four destroyers and five submarines.

CONSTABLE SUCCUMBS FROM BULLET WOUND

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 6.—Constable Dollard Pelletier, of the Montreal police department, died tonight from a bullet wound he received in the abdomen when an alleged bandit he surprised in a grocery store fired at him from point-blank range. During one of the constable's brief moments of consciousness, he received the praise of his chief, Director Langevin, of the police department.

Arrested in connection with the shooting was Paul Delisle, twenty-seven, of Montreal, who was held by Constable Pelletier until aid arrived. The policeman struggled up from the floor of the store and wrapped his arms around the intruder, clinging to him until a recruit, Constable Dalmatich, arrived on the scene. Delisle is held at police headquarters pending tomorrow's inquest.

COMPLETE PLAN FOR ATTACK ON TRANSJORDANIA

King of Hedjaz Can Muster 300,000 Men in Palestine Borders

BRITISH READY FOR DISORDERS BY ARABS

By CARROLL KENDON
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)

LONDON, Aug. 6.—Chiefs of the Saids for attacking Transjordania on the borders of Palestine are complete, according to The London Daily Mail, which estimates that the King of the Hedjas can muster 300,000 mostly horsemen.

The British authorities, it is said, are preparing for Arab disorders in Palestine and this news regarding the Wahabi leader does not surprise London.

ARMAMENTS SHIPPED

The steamer Krakow, carrying 500 tons of Polish rifles, ammunition and armaments for the Hedjas, has left Gdynia with the permission of the League of Nations and the British and French Governments. The Saud apparently does not lack funds despite the discontinuance of the British subsidy of $500,000 a year for his peacefulness.

There is also excitement in another part of the Empire, though of a different character. It is reported that Great Britain is asking for the withdrawal of the German Consul at Tsingapha, East Africa, and an apology from the captain of the German cruiser Karlsruhe because of a goose-stepping naval parade in that, the former German East Africa.

EXCESSIVE EXUBERANCE

According to the British, this first visit of a German cruiser since the world war inspired the Tanga German colony to excessive exuberance. Consul Spetzer's speech, Schlowlow's banquet on that occasion, offended the British by reference to the old German pre-war rule in that colony, and likewise his taking the salute of goose-stepping marines amid cheers from Teutonic bystanders.

The British provincial commissioner obtained an apology from Consul Spetzer, and so armed party from the British cruiser Enterprise paraded through Tanga while a sympathetic humanity overhead, but Great Britain is understood to be asking the consul's withdrawal and an apology from the captain.

Strong U.S. Tennis Players Will Seek Island Net Titles

American Stars Headed by Bradshaw Harrison to Compete in Tourney at Duncan Next Week —Juniors to Play August 26 to 28

With much noted wielders of the tennis racquet as Bradshaw Harrison, R. Hoogs, W. and H. Langlie and F. Ketchum entered, one of the greatest and most select fields ever the history of the meet will be seen in action in the annual open tournament for two Vancouver Island singles championships at the Duncan Lawn Tennis Club from August 13 to 16. Besides the strong American contingent, the best talent from Up-Island centres and Victoria will be in the thick of the fight.

Each year the tournament attracts large numbers from all over the province and the Northwest, and judging from the advance interest taken by local, Up-Island and outside players, this year's entry list is expected to surpass all previous tournaments. Many of the star American fair sex, who appeared in the British Columbia championships at the Willows recently, have signified their intentions of entering before the list closes.

HARRISON ENTERED

Harrison, winner of the Washington State, British Columbia circuit and Western Canada crowns, will be the favorite in the men's singles, although he will, no doubt, receive plenty of stiff opposition from his United States colleagues and Victoria and Vancouver players. Ron Hocking, the Kingston street flash, will defend his title.

Stiff competition is expected in the race for the women's singles with Hope Leeming, defending champion, again in the field. Hope's sister, Marjorie, finalist in the Canadian women's championship this year in the east, will be a starter, and when she starts in a tournament she usually has her eyes focused on the title. Besides the Leeming sisters, the cream of the Northwest and the Island circles will be in the field. Mrs. Leeming and Marjorie Leeming are joint holders of the women's doubles laurels and will be out to repeat their performances of twelve months. The mixed doubles honors Veterans' singles and the usual consolation events will be held.

The tourney will be played under the rules of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association. F. Hoey will act as official referee. Entries must be in the hands of the secretary, Noel B. Staples, P.O. Box 87, Duncan, before noon on Monday, August 11.

JUNIOR TOURNEY

From August 26 to 28, the annual open junior singles championships of Vancouver Island will be held on the same courts. Entries for this meet will close at noon on August 23 and must be sent to Noel Staples at the same address as above.

Last year's champions follow: Boys' singles, under 18 years, J. Brown, Vancouver; girls' singles, under 18 years, Helen Campbell, Victoria; boys' singles, under 16 years, R. Brich, Duncan; girls' singles, under 16 years, Miss F. Horne, Duncan; boys' singles, under 14 years, R. Bradford, Duncan; girls' singles, under 14 years, Miss E. Young.

Officials in charge of both tourneys follow: F. Hoey, president; H. W. Cathcart, vice-president; secretary-treasurer, N. R. Staples; executive committee, J. B. Aitken, A. Peel, Miss Dawson-Thomas, S. J. Westcott and Miss Isabelle Robertson.

"Now, guard," said Pilkington, "remember if I have this carriage to myself for the entire journey you will receive half a crown."

"Very good, sir," said the guard, and he locked the door.

All went well until they reached a station about the middle of the journey; then an irascible man pulled at the door of Pilkington's carriage.

"Guard! Guard!" he called. "Open this door! I knew your tricks. I've the right to travel in this carriage, and I mean to do it!"

The guard whispered a few words to the irascible man, after which the latter went away.

"How did you manage it?" Pilkington asked the guard at the end of the journey, as he pressed the proffered half-crown into his hand. "How did you get that bad-tempered old chap to go away so quietly?"

"I just told him you were a bit wrong in the head," replied the guard.

RECORD ENTRY LIST IS ASSURED

Extensive Improvements and Novel Features Insure Fair's Success

KEEN DISTRICT CONTEST

Officials of the British Columbia Agricultural Association are working day and night in the offices in the Bayward Building to handle entries which are flocking in for all classes by every mail. Predictions made early that this year's entry list would establish a record have been sustained, and competition will be keen in every section of the big show, which opens August 18 at the Willows.

Many improvements have been made to the buildings and the grounds, and, with horse races, attractive amusement features, cattle shows, horticultural displays, agricultural exhibits, women's exhibits, school exhibits, rabbit and poultry shows, and last, but by no means least, the pictures from the National Art Gallery, which will be shown in the main building, the week will be crowded with interest for the thousands of Victoria people who flock to the fair.

A keen contest is indicated in the district exhibits, which always stir great interest. Already entries have been received from Victoria, Richmond and Surrey, and in the same building competition for space has been keen between District of Vancouver Island, assuring more of the displays which draw admiration of all visitors. A large entry has been received for the poultry exhibit, under the direction of M. Blackstock.

There will be an unusually complete display of light and heavy horses, with a number of heavy six-horse teams from Fraser Valley, Portland, and different points in Washington. The saddle and Corinthian classes will be included in the light horse division. The cattle building is already filled, and officials are looking for more space in which to place steers and cows entered from many points in the Pacific Northwest.

WALES URGES GOLDFIELD PLAN

Wales is carrying on his campaign for the revival of gold mining. A memorandum has been presented to the government asking for a searching inquiry into the prospect of developing a Welsh goldfield. Mining experts who have examined the district say that there is an area of 350 square miles in North Wales which contains as good a show of gold-bearing quartz as any other known area of similar size. With modern methods and modern machinery it is possible that Wales may develop a thriving gold industry. There are still traces of Roman aqueducts and diversion channels in the Mawddach Valley, and gold pearls has been discovered. Mining operations on a small scale were carried on in Merionethshire until twenty years ago, and about $2,500,000 worth of gold has been extracted since 1851.

10,000 AT SCOTCH GROTTO

Ten thousand people attended the annual celebration of Corpus Christi at Carfin Grotto, in Scotland. Special trains and buses were run from cities of Edinburgh, Haddington, Bo'ness, Dalkeith and Aberlady. The lengthy procession was composed of members of the Children of Mary and St. Joseph, the Sacred Heart, and other organizations, including ninety members of the Catholic Seafarers from Glasgow. The procession was a striking picture as it traversed the grounds of the Grotto. Halts were made at the stations of Christ the King and at Mount Calvary, where benedictions were pronounced. The rallying point at the close of the ceremonies was the Shrine of Our Lady, where benediction was also pronounced. Canon Mullen, Langloan, officiated.

BRITANNIA BRANCH IS GAINING IN STRENGTH

Thirty-Five New Members Were Admitted at Regular Meeting —New Quarters Popular

Going ahead by leaps and bounds, the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, of the B.E.S.L., is gaining in strength, with the addition of thirty-five new members at the last regular meeting. Twenty-two of these were present for initiation.

The new quarters, which have recently been purchased by the club, have undoubtedly proved a stimulus to the enlistment of new members, and when they are finished the branch expects to have the finest quarters in the province.

The reports of the various committees dealt with matters which are of pertinent interest. One comment had reference to ex-service men who the legion for adjustment of pensions and then drop out after obtaining such adjustments, even in some cases when considerable sums have been obtained for retroactivation.

The directors of the next of kin fund reported matters in a very healthy state and that keen interest was taken in this scheme by the new members.

The pensions committee reported on the work being done and complained on the large number of applications being received from members in connection with the Veterans' Allowance Act.

A STABLE FISCAL POLICY

One of the fundamentally satisfactory features of the late election is that Canada for the next four or five years will have a stable fiscal policy. Much of the depression that now exists may be traced to the fact that the agricultural and manufacturing industries of the country have been handicapped by uncertainty from year to year as to what would be the character of the tariff changes. The Mackenzie King Government was made up of strange fiscal bedfellows—of protectionists and free traders—and in its tariff policies it was forever following a programme of compromise not only in its customs schedules but through its lopsided trade treaties as well.

In effect what has happened in the last nine years has been that while almost every country in the world has been raising its tariffs Canada has been lowering hers. The increases effected by the United States in her tariff barriers, increases definitely directed against our products, have not been met by countervailing duties. The policy followed has been one of giving no fiscal provocation to the United States no matter what the provocation might be on her part. The result has been a definitely growing adverse balance of trade as between Canada and the United States. This has meant an exodus of our people who have been deprived of work on this side of the line. It has meant the creation of growing unemployment in our midst.

The Conservatives go into office with a record of having, ever since 1878, adhered steadfastly to the National Policy enunciated and put into effect by Sir John A. Macdonald. They believe in protection as an essential in the industrial development of the country. They do not need to palter with the Customs duties or trim their sails to meet the varying tides of any section of the nation's opinion. They do not need to do what Mr. R. B. Bennett has made it clear that he stands for the National Policy and he has received an emphatic support in every province of the Dominion. The myth that the Prairie Provinces are solidly against the protective principle has been exploded by the result of the election. In that part of the Dominion, as well as throughout its length and breadth, the people want measures adopted which will make for industrial prosperity, prevent unemployment and put an end to the exodus of our people to the United States.

FULL INVESTIGATION IS NEEDED

Until it is settled definitely, on the basis of the best interests of the health of the province, the question of drugless healers and other practitioners of that ilk will continue to recur in British Columbia as it has elsewhere. As in the case of medicine it is highly desirable that legislative control should be established. A promise was made during the course of the last session of the Provincial Legislature that an inquiry would be held, and that on the basis of recommendations which might arise out of this inquiry would be considered. It is desirable that this inquiry should be undertaken, and without delay, so that this issue, now cropping up with such regularity, may be settled permanently.

The nature of a commission of inquiry should not cause the Provincial Government any hesitation. The commissioner should be a Judge of the Supreme Court, who can be relied upon to examine the whole issue dispassionately and to reach a judicial finding on the basis of the evidences adduced. The scope of the inquiry would include all matters relating to the practice of the healing art. In other words, medical education would be canvassed, and, as well, the practice of osteopaths, optometrists, chiropractors, Christian Scientists and others in relation to their contact with the physical welfare of the community. The investigation would, more particularly, deal with origin, progress and practice of osteopathy, chiropractic, manotherapy and each form of healing, since it is for the regulation of these that it would be held. Once the character of the commission and its scope have been determined the conduct can well be left to such an authority as a Judge of the Supreme Court of the province.

Back in 1915 an investigation was held in the Province of Ontario by Mr. Justice Frank E. Hodgins. In his report there are some features worthy of recollection in reference to chiropractic. At that time it was claimed that the science had nothing in common with any other method, cliique, school or cult. Its equipment was meagre, its essential apparatus was described as "brains, hands, knowledge and the ability to impart it to the students." It was claimed on behalf of the science that it was quite unnecessary in dealing with a patient to know anything about the history of the case. Chiropractors in Ontario in 1915 saw no necessity for preparatory qualifications, "microbic and specific diagnosis, bacteriology and chemistry; admitted that a chiropractor acts in all cases on the cardinal principle, without examination." That cardinal principle was defined by a practitioner of the Universal Chiropractic College of Davenport, Iowa, as:

"The theory sustaining this system presumes that 'if consequences of displaced vertebra the invertebral foramina (openings) are occluded (closed), through which the spinal nerves pass. In this way the nerves are pinched, and chiropractors assume that such pinching is responsible for 95 per cent of all diseases. Chiropractic concerns itself with an adjustment of the subluxations, thus removing the pressure on the nerves." The reply of Mr. Justice Hodgins to this theory was that: "I cannot bring myself to the point of accepting, as part of our legalized medical provision, for the sick, a system which denies the need of diagnosis, refers 95 per cent of all disease to one and the same cause, and turns its back resolutely on all modern medical and scientific methods as being founded on nothing and unworthy even to be discussed."

Possibly the science of chiropractic has advanced during the past fifteen years and may now pay more deference to the accumulated knowledge of the ages. If it is to be recognized as a part of the healing art it must have moved forward, for in 1915 Dr. E. DuVal, who conducted the Canadian Chiropractic College in Hamilton told the Ontario Commissioner that "Chiropractic does not claim to treat, cure or heal anything or anybody of ailments or diseases. The chiropractor does not concern himself with the consideration of effects; the all-important thing for him is to locate and remove the cause, regardless of the effect." It was admitted, moreover, by the same authority on the science, that "fake chiropractors have been produced in large numbers by bogus schools, which, for a mere song and in a few weeks' time, crew by correspondence, succeed in ordering change of address."

If this is the case still, as there is good reason to believe, there is all the more need for an investigation in this province which will lead to the placing of chiropractors and other exponents of cults and practices of a similar nature under control as will redound to the health of the community.

CANADA'S WHEAT PROBLEM

The crop in this country will reach 400,000,000 bushels if present estimates prove correct. In addition to this there is still a carryover of several million bushels from the 1928 crop and of some 150,000,000 bushels of the 1929 crop. It looks as if, until this crop accumulation is marketed on a larger scale than it is being marketed now, that the elevators of the country will be jammed to overflowing.

The International Institute of Agriculture at Rome, the world's greatest authority, estimates that Europe, exclusive of Russia, will reap this year 87,000,000 bushels more than the average of the past five years. This will mean that the demands of Europe on this continent will be less than they were last year when they showed a distinct decline over previous years.

An outstanding problem for the country is the disposal of its surplus wheat. Until this is solved the purchasing power in the West, and, indeed, in Canada as a whole, must be restricted proportionately. The task of solution has long ago passed beyond the power of the Wheat Pool. It is conceivable that it may be possible for so much grain being held in the country's elevators. It has been holding out for certain prices where it is the price of wheat has been falling for the past six months.

If slackening trade and increasing unemployment are to be overcome, it is by the incoming Government it must assume, as part of its task, the duty of finding markets for Canadian wheat. In a presing problem such as this party shibboleths must be sunk. Prosperity depends in large measure on the disposal of the wheat crop and any of the indictments against the Mackenzie King regime was the apathy that it displayed towards this problem so deeply vital to the country's welfare. The situation is a serious one. It should be a matter occupying a foremost place in the discussions at the Imperial Economic Conference.

ROCK ROSES

At breakfast-time on Summer days
Our rockery is all ablaze
With mingling rose and mauve and white
To dazzle and enchant the sight.
It is not transport of a day
And little labels here and there
To point some secret hidden treasure.
But heaped with overflowing measure
Of purple aubrietia, snow white
Cerastium in snowy stages,
White gypsophila in the sunlight gloves
The color of the Alpine rose.
The deeper, richer, dark blues
Only these flowers and silken dresses.

Then when the sun has mounted high
The rosy color of dawn
Until the brilliant morning scene
Is quiet mauve and white and green.
At eventide to fade away
Into a swift purple dusk
But with the light of morning, let
Triumphant the rock roses glow!
New every day they tell their story
Of radiance and morning glory.

—M. B. L., in The London Morning Post.

"CHAMBERED NAUTILUS"

"Build thee more stately mansions, oh, my soul,
As the swift seasons roll,
Leave thy low, vaulted past,
Let each new temple, nobler than the last,
Shut thee from Heaven, with a dome so vast,
Till thou thyself art free,
Leaving thine outgrown shell,
By life's unresting sea."

—Oliver W. Holmes.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Pains, aches, aches, aches,
Pains from his bile ducts,
Deserted at his utmost need
By those his former friends of old —Dryden.

We have been trying desperately to avoid any further references to politics, because we believe readers of the papers must be sick and tired with politics and want to read no more upon the subject until some new and interesting thing in the political situation turns up. But this resolution, like nearly all good resolutions, is broken so soon. Every time we go out on the streets politics is thrust upon us.

This very morning we met a friend upon the street corner, and were greeted with a smile modified by a sense of intermingled pity, smile became articulate in the words, "Well, I suppose the last words has been written about the Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King?" The implication of course was that Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King is a dead one. But the Premier (for he was still the Premier at the time of the conversation and was the Premier at the time of writing) is not a dead one either in a physical or political sense. If we can keep the ashes kept in clay for a few years, we suppose there will be more to be written about Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King. A Premier who could retain control of a politically hostile Parliament and remain in the head of a Government for several years despite an adverse majority is not likely to be counted in a single defeat, even if that defeat be quite decisive.

Mr. King was not defeated personally. Nobody was the worse for his defeat politically but defeated. Miss Agnes Macphail has been defeated, and the speaker and the bachelor may again be standing shoulder to shoulder in opposition for days yet to come, fighting manfully and womanfully until the dawn of a brighter and better day. But of course the dawn of that brighter and better day seems so far long way off. The new Parliament will be firmly controlled by the new Premier. The elements which called themselves independents and hoped to establish a new political heaven upon the old political earth are but a remnant, and they have been shorn of all power. The new Government cannot be backed up against a wall, grabbed by the scruff of the neck, and soundly thrashed out of its pants. A brighter and better day has dawned, but the spinster and the bachelor are shivering behind a cloud.

Per there is a cloud on the horizon. This cloud, at present no bigger than a man's hand, does not threaten the future of Canada or the fortunes of the new Government. It may affect the fortunes of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King. While Conservative newspapers and Conservative leaders have been paying tribute to the manner in which the leader of the Government conducted the affairs of Canada during his terms of office and the manner in which he managed the campaign, some of the leading Liberal newspapers have been criticizing his political conduct of the Premier, questioning his judgment in dissolving the House at a time when the conditions were not favorable for success in an election, declaring that he had blundered and out-maneuvered by the leader of the Conservative forces, and suggesting that a convention should be summoned for the purpose of considering the question of future leadership.

Sir John Macdonald said once that elections were like horse races —very uncertain as to results. When with an executive authority satisfied that there was an element of sportsmanship in elections, there can be no harm in saying that the real test of true sportsmanship lies in accepting defeat gracefully and good naturedly. The jockey on the Liberal horse was all right. His mount, however, had lost the race. It was decrepit and worn out. It could neither keep the pace nor make the distance. And the rider is out of the saddle, and from what we know, the job of dismounting him will be somewhat difficult. The man who could muster a hostile Parliament to his will is not likely to be a tender cooing to the demands of a clique of political insurrectionists. In such a contest we are for fair play and on the side of Mr. King.

That is why we gladly quote the following tribute printed in the editorial columns of the Conservative Ottawa Journal "A triumphant Conservatism will salute Mr. Mackenzie King in defeat as it did in days of his strength. He had his faults, some of them grave, but it must be admitted that he fought a gallant fight, that he was a tireless, skilful, and extraordinarily able adversary, one who in tactics and strategy and platform appeal has had few rivals in politics.

"The best measure of Mr. King's political adroitness is that he governed Canada for nearly a decade without a parliamentary majority. There may be records more remarkable than that, but if they exist, we have missed in our time, we are not aware of them. And Mr. King's political career is far from at an end to-day, in the natural functioning of things—for Government always die—he will come back to power, and in the meantime there is work for him to do as leader of His Majesty's Opposition. It is no mean role for any man, one capable of great and high service, and Mr. King may be depended upon to perform it with credit to his party and to his country."

MASQUERADE

Many lives are masked always,
Little can we know
From their wonted outward phase
Of the heart beats
Though their days may lack repose,
Cares may vex the mind;
Yet, behind the gay masquerade
Unidistarbed and kind.

Gruffness sometimes serves to hide
Tenderness and love;
Noblest virtues may abide
With grim glance above.

Masquerade is everywhere,
Earth, indeed, a stage;
Youthful spirits don white hair,
Wear the garb of age.

Sin not likely led astray
By a masking mood;
Seek, in all going your way,
Hidden sides of good!

CORN 2,000 YEARS OLD IS FOUND IN OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 6.—Specimens of dent corn, probably 2,000 years old, but with grains much like the Cimarron County basketmakers' caves, was reported today by J. B. Thoburn, curator of the Oklahoma Historical Society and leader of an archaeological expedition.

Other recent finds include a small rawhide bag filled with pumpkin seeds and a buffalo head carvings in the right foot, lined on the inside with fur.

Sir Walter Scott Centenary of 1932 To Be Celebrated

By HASTIE COCHRANE

Response in the shape of short press paragraphs from all sources on both sides of the Atlantic shows the world-wide interest which is being taken in commemoration of the centenary of Sir Walter Scott's death, in 1832 (may he most fittingly commemorated).

In 1926 a committee was formed in Scotland with the Duke of Buccleuch, chief of the Scott Clan, as president. The executive has already put forward some recommendations in the way of ceremonial proceedings at Dryburgh, where Scott lies resting, church services at St. Giles, in Edinburgh, and functions of Scott memorialists, as well as a foundation laid-stone at Edinburgh University for Scottish literature.

A suggestion has recently been made that the area surrounding Ben Lomond might be purchased as a national park and dedicated to the memory of Scott. This would be the first instance of a national park in Britain.

"This project is endeavoring to openly, universally truly establish a permanent record to the honor of the Wizard of the Waverley Novels, the sovereign story of knowledge, wisdom and happiness which he spread as a banquet before the world will be by no means confined to Scotland and Scotland.

AN EPOCH IN HISTORY

Concerning as it does at this time, which may well be marked hereafter as a most important epoch in the history of the British Empire, it is worthy of consideration whether the universal estimation in which Scotch life was held should cease to be further spread and utilized as a greater Empire-consolidating force, greater than even he could have anticipated in the good celebration of his country, love of mankind, of the brave, the noble and the true, justice and honor in every path and walk of life, respecting its prevailing passion, and for his own honor's sake as we may well say he died.

Such was the feeling of Charles Dickens. When addressing an audience of literary men in Edinburgh he called attention to the necessity of a universal and international, or international copyright, and used the following words in which he pleaded for protection of British authors being at that time unable to secure more than a pittance from their work when printed and sold across the Atlantic: "Had there existed such law," he said, "in this respect, Scott might not have sunk beneath the mighty pressure on his brain."

And for 100 years since those words were spoken the interest in Scott's work has gone on increasing and continues as new evidence appears from time to time, showing the vast scope of his intellect and the wide range of his affections.

The recent publication of extracts from an entirely new collection of letters, selected from some 6,000 manuscript epistles written by Sir Walter and Johnstone almost unknown, and which have been in thousands of Scott devotees. These letters range over many years, from all manner of people and places, and they render a graphic picture of the times and conditions of life at the period in which they were written, 120 years ago.

SCOTT'S ROMANCE

Romance, the romance of undeniable from Scott and all he touched, did not die with his death, for the resurrection of those letters after they had lain almost forgotten at Abbotsford for so many years, touches closely upon the romance of Scott himself. Johnstone, Mr. Horace Walpole tells how, by some subconscious force was compelled towards buying those letters when they were offered at auction some years since. He has now subconsciously been drawn to the nation. But on gaining possession of the letters he found he had left letters once more to the North Sheen, in the remote seclusion of the Cumberland hills, he dipped and dipped again into the pages of years into the intriguing mass of treasure trove, and found everywhere throughout the pages, there appears a romance, a romance of a glorious generosity and nobility of Scott's spirit and character.

In what better manner then can the memory of Sir William Scott be kept alive than by the gift of first hand study and investigation of the border land of Scotland and Scotland, the land of his forefathers, from which he sprang and which he has made his own as no other has ever done, and with whose romantic history he fascinated and enthralled the world.

Scotland appears alive to her possibilities. The Scottish Formed Scottish Tourist Development Association, many thousands of miles of Aberdeen, is already hard at work creating interest sufficiently to attract 15,000 members among the business men of Scotland, backed by many members of the nobility, municipal and other public bodies. Scotland has so much to show, but has ever been shy of exhibiting her land and its history treasuring privately, almost, the fortunes of Scotland as if it were sacred to her only, but surely now she has her opportunity.

THE ROAD TO THE ROCK

There never has been, and it is inconceivable to have been, a time in the history of the British Empire when the Scottish people could be so instrumental in bringing about that implacably north and south and the Celtic range, and a succession of dramas enacted the results of which have been such a mighty important part in the world's history. Scotland has opportunities once but once in a lifetime when a great movement can be assisted and immense knowledge and goodwill created, a great popular a name, and a man whose the world at large knows and whose memory no more than small Journ life has as yet been forgotten.

Scott crossed Tweed on horseback near Abbotford a thousand times at the identical spot, where the representatives of England crossed in 1543 to receive from the Wishes of Scotland the title and seine to the Stirrick Forest lands and Castle of Newark, which represented the dowry of the English Princess Margaret on her marriage with the Scottish King James IV. Thus was the unity of the two kingdoms begun, from which resulted the union of the Crowns, and the foundation of the mighty British Empire.

Scott's history as this, and such spots, must always retain intense interest for the far-flung peoples of British blood. It is true that Scotsmen are as signpost left by the British race throughout its dominions, which must and ought to act as an inspiration to each succeeding generation.

With a fitting realisation of what the British Empire owes to Scotland, we must indeed be but a feeble member who cannot give himself on the occasion to be possessed a permanent interest in all such great events, and that they are his as a part of a common racial heritage.

AN ANOMALY

Sir,—I was in Victoria last Friday when your Horticultural Society put on its Summer Show. It was a beautiful show and one for which I feel that those responsible may well be proud.

I listened to the speech of the president, in which he said that he had been informed that there were many exhibitors for lack of space. This is surely deplorable. Has a curious anomaly—at one end of the hall two young American salesmen had a large table to themselves upon which they displayed brightly embellished copies of various Upland States gardens and other publications for which I suppose they were soliciting either subscriptions or advertisements.

WINNING NAME FOR NEW SUBDIVISION IS SUMAS GARDENS

With the end of the month a competition was brought to a close which has aroused considerable interest during the last three weeks. The Victoria Realty & Building, Ltd., 616 Vivi Street, offered a substantial cash prize for the best suggested name applicable to the new subdivision the firm has recently acquired and developed. The location, lying at the end of Sumas Drive, close to Mayor Kirkpatrick Crescent, Mt. F. Landsberg and Reeve E. C. Hayward, recently commenced to act, were handed the list of names each with a number appropriate which were opended to the competitors name on

MANY INJURED WHEN PRISON RIOT STARTS OVER USE OF GROUNDS

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—A group of prisoners at Welfare Island faced disciplinary action today as the result of a riot between 400 white and negro inmates over use of the baseball field. Twenty-seven prisoners were injured, seven seriously, Rose escaped.

The trouble, which had been brewing for several days, broke into a riot during the recreation period, about 5 p.m. yesterday. The yard was transformed suddenly into a battle field. Guards and others about them with knives, clubs, sharpened pieces of metal and other makeshift weapons rushed into the melee and halted hostilities after about 15 minutes.

Four emergency police squads and three harbor division launches, bearing reinforcements from nearby precincts converged on the island soon after the alarm was sounded. But when they arrived order had been restored.

European Countries Are Now Swiftly Approaching Economic Unity Proposal

By EUGENE CHAFFORD
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 6.—Carlets, agrarian bloc, industrial blocs and preferential tariffs have monopolized an increasing amount of attention in Central and Southeastern European chancelleries and newspapers daily for a fortnight.

Within a few days, after he seized the Rumanian throne, and possibly while he was still abroad, King Carol sounded out Jugoslavia and Hungary, and perhaps also Bulgaria, concerning closer cooperation between the agricultural states to ease the crisis that faces the farmers as a favorable new harvest begins with the expectancy of a new surplus added to last year's untold grain.

TOWARDS SAME END

Hungary's Premier, Count Bethlen, for several years has been working toward the same end, and his failed only because Czechoslovakia's Foreign Minister, Edouard Benes, seeing in Hungarian-Rumanian-Jugoslav agricultural cooperation danger both to the political unity of the Little Entente and to the industrial life of Czechoslovakia itself, has exerted every zeal to prevent Rumania and Jugoslavia from sitting down with Hungary at a conference table to discuss agricultural problems.

With King Carol and Premier Count Bethlen both desirous of the same thing, a Hungarian-Rumanian-Jugoslav agricultural conference at an early date was a foregone conclusion. This conference occurred in Budapest, and southwestern Rumania and Jugoslavia held a second conference at Sinaia, Rumania, to decide on a common policy in case Czechoslovakia was dissatisfied with their attitude toward Hungarian cooperation.

DECLARATION RESULTS

The result was a declaration that they were determined to unite forces in some form. The phrase, "customs union," was used, but this is a bit strong because both countries have commercial treaties, which prevent such an arrangement.

It is more likely that the first step will be the formation of private grain cartels in each country, with Government subsidies and a common selling organization. In this, Hungary can easily participate. Toward such a programme the Czech Government is maintaining a watchful waiting attitude.

Not so Czechoslovakia's papers, however, the agrarian organ, Venkov, which hitherto has stood firm against lower Czechoslovak tariffs on all grain, even that of Rumania and Jugoslavia, has begun an agitation for treaties which would give more favored treatment to Jugoslavia—an obvious effort, it is believed, to wean Jugoslavia from a combine with Hungary and Rumania.

COMMERCIAL TREATY

Countering the influence of this offer, however, has come the announcement that Italy and Russia have concluded a commercial treaty and that Russia, with expectations of favorable terms, will have a large surplus for export to the European industrial countries.

It is generally expected, therefore, that neither Jugoslavia, Rumania nor Hungary will be deterred from its course, and it is not impossible that such an economic entente will also include Bulgaria.

FRANCO-ITALIAN TALK CONTINUES

Conversations Thus Far, However, Prove Fruitless, —Corsica Strengthened

FOOD IS BEING STORED

By PAUL SCOTT MOWRER
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)

PARIS, France, Aug. 6.—The Chicago Daily News learns that the Franco-Italian conversations which are being conducted by diplomatic officials of the two countries here in Paris have thus far been confined to generalities and have brought no results, though they are still continuing.

"NAVAL HOLIDAY"

It is further confirmed that the so-called "naval holiday," which led to the resumption of negotiations after the recent tension, is rather "conversational" material. According to the best information obtainable neither country could possibly lay down any more ships until December 1, no matter how big the programmes voted, because their yards are already full.

The holiday was granted by the French Government at Foreign Minister Aristide Briand's request after Great Britain had made representations to both France and Italy, saying that if the Franco-Italian building competition continues, Great Britain will be obliged to invoke the escape clause of the London Naval Treaty and build beyond the figures agreed upon with the United States and Japan.

AGREEMENT WITH ITALY

M. Briand, it is understood, has been given until December 1 to reach an agreement, if possible, with Italy. It is affirmed, however, that no agreement which gives Italy a naval parity under any form with France is acceptable here.

Furthermore, if no agreement is reached by December 1, the apparent intention of the French Government is to proceed immediately with its 1931 building programme, which calls for approximately 50,000 tons, including one new 22,000-ton capital ship. If Italy also then announces a programme of 50,000 tons, France will presumably supplement its programme to reach an even higher figure.

It is said that the defenses of the Island of Corsica are now being strengthened daily, and that food is being stored there for a long siege.

ITALIAN RELIGIOUS PLANS FOR SCHOOLS

Intensive Courses of Study in Catholic Doctrine and History of Church

By WILLIAM H STONEMAN
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)

ROME, Italy, Aug. 6.—After a year's delay, the Italian State has finally published its programme for religious instruction in secondary schools, thus fulfilling the obligation it accepted under Article 36 of the concordat with the Holy See.

By means of this programme, which comes in the form of a royal decree published in the official gazette, intensive courses of study in Catholic doctrine and the history of the church are provided for all those institutions corresponding to grammar and high schools on the American continent.

Courses are to be given even in art and music academies, technical, commercial and agricultural schools and normal schools. Instruction in the latter will be particularly advanced and intensified.

All instruction, according to Article 36, must be given by either laymen or priests approved by the bishop of the diocese and subject to recall by him at any time.

Dissenters among the students need not take the instruction, but due to the fact that 96 per cent of all Italians are Catholics, this provision is unimportant.

GOVERNOR RECEIVES 300-YEAR-OLD SWORD

Japanese Business Men Touring Canada Present Good Will Gift to Lord Willingdon

OTTAWA, Aug. 6.—Emblematic of good will and friendship, a 300-year-old Samurai sword was presented to His Excellency Viscount Willingdon today by Senji Suzuki, one of the party of seven prominent Japanese business men now on a tour of Canada and the United States. The ceremony took place at Rideau Hall, the vice-regal residence.

Later the party was entertained at luncheon by Hon. L. M. Fitzgawa, Japanese minister to Canada.

All members of the party were enthusiastic about their visit to Canada and the improvement of commercial relations between their country and the Dominion. Hon. Herbert Marler, Canadian minister to Japan, had achieved striking success during his first year at Tokio, they declared.

PROSPECTORS DISAPPOINTED

MELBOURNE, Victoria, Aug. 6.—Australia's new goldfield bubble appears to have burst. The chance discovery of a nugget weighing thirty ounces in the Tirranguilla district, which started a gold rush, has been followed by no further strikes.

Hundreds of claims have been pegged out eagerly, but no more gold has been found and many prospectors are leaving in disappointment, leaving an army of newcomers as they depart.

B.C. Coal Producers Meet Government in Conference To Open at Capital Today

The vital importance of the coal industry of British Columbia to the prosperity of the province, and the necessity for the adoption of some steps that will stop the gradual strangulation of the industry through the growing use of imported fuel oil, and from other causes, will be discussed by representative leaders of the Government, the coal operators, transportation and other business circles at Victoria today.

The conference, called by Hon. W A McKenzie, Minister of Mines, has received widespread attention from coal operators and from the mining group of business leaders will be on hand for the opening of the discussions at 10:30 this morning in the members' room at the legislative buildings.

Hon. W. A. McKenzie will preside and will be assisted by officials of his department, who have gone exhaustively into the present circumstances of the industry.

NEED HOME MARKET

Nothing less than a general accord by the public of the fact that British Columbia coal mines are a necessary and vital plant helping to support its whole economy, together with a vigorous effort to overcome the difficulties now facing soft coal producers in the province.

British Columbia coal producers, together with representatives of the two leading transportation systems, both of whom are already great users of coal, and other business circles will be represented at the legislative buildings this morning. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association and the Mine Officials' Association, and all chambers of commerce and boards of trade affected by the question, have been invited to send their representatives.

TO SET OUT FACTS

The proceedings of the conference, which will take the form of a round-table discussion of the problems facing miners and operators in British Columbia will include a statement from the minister setting out the facts as they exist at the present time, and a summary of the developments which have led up to the present depression in the coal trade of the province.

The coal producers may be asked to elaborate on the subject by detailing experiences at the several British Columbia fields in regard to present production and unemployment. This, it is felt, will lay the basis for a general discussion of the best means of bringing home to the public the vital importance of the coal industry to the economic welfare of the province as a whole.

ONE POSSIBLE SOLUTION

The use of more British Columbia coal is realized to be the only practical solution of the present difficulties, where the coal is competing against crude oil imported duty free and refined in the province, to be sold here for home use that would have consumed literally thousands of tons of coal were it not for this situation.

British Columbia has an abundant supply of coal in its mines and reserves, but the establishment of a permanent home market is necessary to restore the industry to the place it should occupy if the economic welfare of the province is to be taken into account.

WORK FOR ALL

The average production of coal per man engaged in the mines is 478 tons a year. If the conference leads to a reduction of fuel oil use in places where British Columbia coal can economically be substituted, it would mean work through the year for a number of men.

Arrangements are being made, as announced today, for development and transportation of the ore to Pigeon for shipment.

EXTENSION OF ARTERIAL PLAN IS ANNOUNCED

Many B.C. Municipalities Will Benefit From Reduction in Upkeep

ISLAND COMMUNITIES SHARE DEVELOPMENT

Saanich, North Cowichan and Courtenay communities will benefit from an extension of the arterial highway system of the province announced yesterday by the Government, on the advice of Hon. N. S. Lougheed, Minister of Public Works. Altogether, eleven districts in the province will reap the benefit of the change by being relieved of the cost of upkeep of the main highways.

The extension of the arterial highway system now brought into play will classify highways for the following areas as arterial: the cities of Cranbrook, Prince Rupert and Grand Forks; the municipalities of North Cowichan, Matsqui, Saanich, Langley and Chilliwack; the villages of Creston, Masset and Hope.

The transprovincial highway, through the municipality of Burnaby is also classed as arterial by the new ruling, which is an extension of the system previously taken under control of the province.

ELECTION BET COSTS LIBERAL HIS BEARD

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 6.—Embarrassment of paying the old tradition election wager by pushing the victor down the main street in a wheelbarrow is only momentary in that of Francis C. Chauvin, stalwart Liberal of East Essex. For the past month now Mr. Chauvin's best friends have passed him on the street without a trace of recognition, for Mr. Chauvin is now without the luxuriant beard which for years had graced his features.

This morning marks the opening date of the Jos. Crewe Ltd. clothing store, formerly at 627 Fort Street. This location was previously occupied by Cornell's Bakery and Tea Rooms, and is ideally situated in the heart of the business section of the city. Good fixtures throughout have been added to the splendid facilities for display of the special lines of men's furnishing which will be carried. As an exclusive line the "Fashion Craft" clothes will be stocked, the product of a Canadian firm that is known throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion for quality and style of men's clothing, made from imported materials 100 per cent British. Imported British woolens will also be added to the complete line of general furnishings.

Mr. Greer, late of Prince Rupert, there he operated his own establishment, has been in the clothing business all his life, and affiliated with the Fashion Craft Corporation for the past fifteen years. It is his intention to take up his residence in the city. Mr. Greer is prominent in Grey and Masonic circles. Also affiliated with the concern is Mr. Herbert Doherty, recently with David Spencer, Ltd., for the past five years. Mr. Doherty is well known in the city and is a popular baseball player, being on the winning team of the Sons of Canada.

PORT WILLIAM, Aug. 6.—Discovery of ore bearing hematite is reported to have been made by Henry Dreany, Toronto prospector, at a point near the Canadian National Railways right-of-way, about seventy-five miles east of Nipigon. From the staked-out claim, Dreany predicts a yield of 13,000,000 tons of ore carrying 50 to 60 per cent hematite in development work 300 feet from the surface

BANDITS LOCK TWO IN U.S. BANK VAULT

OAKVILLE, Wash., Aug. 6.—Locking the cashier and a girl employee in the vault, two men held up the Oakville State Bank here shortly after it opened today and escaped with between $2,800 and $3,000 in currency. The men disdained several hundred dollars in silver which was lying on the counter when the raiult. A third man waited in a car outside the building.

McKinlie Kane, the cashier, said the men entered the building about 9:10 and handed him a note saying: "Please remain quiet." Miss Elizabeth Wilcox was working in the vault at the time. Kane said the bandits told him to keep his hands down, although one of the men entered him with a gun.

He said they forced him into the vault, took the currency and shut the door. Kane opened it with a screw driver in about fifteen minutes, he said, and notified officers.

FIVE-DAY WORK WEEK WILL BE CONSIDERED

Mainland Trades and Labor Council Will Not Send Delegates to Parley

VANCOUVER, Aug. 6.—According to sentiments expressed at the Vancouver and District Trades and Labor Council last night, that organization will remain aloof from the proposed joint conference which also includes a dual union. The matter arose out of an invitation sent by the Building & Construction Industries Association to send a committee to a conference to be held, at which the five-day week would be discussed. The invitation outlined the many organizations that had been invited, which included practically every organized body in the city which would have any interest in the subject. It included the Vancouver All-Canada Labor Council.

The Vancouver and New Westminster Trades and Labor Council executive recommended that the Building & Construction Council be notified that the contractor body be informed that the international organization had already gone on record in favor of the five-day week and therefore did not desire to participate in the coming conference.

STARTS UPROAR

A delegate suggested that the letter should state definitely that the refusal to join the conference was because a dual organization had been invited. Other delegates voiced similar feelings, but one arose and urged that the conference be recognized. He declared, withheat, that if the Vancouver International Labor body was refusing to attend the proposed conference because a dual organization had been invited, it was time to withdraw from the international body.

Chairman, President C. McDonald, ordered him to withdraw such expressions. He refused, and was ordered out. He prepared to resist his expulsion, but the excitement quieted when the chairman refused to put to vote a motion to have the obstreperous delegates removed. Finally the recommendation of the executive, refusing to join the conference, was passed.

TIME NOT OPPORTUNE

A request of blind broom workers for use of the great labor hall for a mass meeting to protest against certain actions of the Canadian National Institute of the Blind was not approved, the delegates feeling that the time was not opportune. Deep sympathy, however, was voiced for the broomworkers, and a motion was offered that the organization committee attempt to form them into a union. This was not carried, but is to be further considered. It is understood.

Building Trades Council reported progress in organizing mill workers.

A motion to wire Sir Henry Thornton and Ben Moore, urging that a five-day week policy be adopted in completion of construction on the Canadian National hotel was passed. This wire is to be confirmed by letter. It was stated that such a policy was in line with that of the Canadian National Railways at the present time.

NEW FIRE OUTBREAK NEAR COWICHAN LAKE

Forestry Officials Report Timber Blazing at Toba Inlet and Laoquet

Fire-fighters succeeded in extinguishing the burning forest area near Camp 18, Cowichan Lake, only to find that a new outbreak, apparent confined to a small area, had taken place about ten miles to the south.

Another fire has started on Lasqueti Island, according to reports received by forestry department officials, while at Toba Inlet loggers are eating their way up a hillside and at least thirty acres of timber is burning. A small crew of men are combating the Toba Inlet difficulties.

FLAMES CHECKED

Backfiring was resorted to in fighting the fire that has been burning for several days near Powell River, and as a result the flames were checked.

After a prolonged struggle the fire near Point Atkinson, just outside of Vancouver, was extinguished.

WASHINGTON FIRES BAD

Reports from the state of Washington go to the effect that more than double the area burned over last year has been disturbed of late by outbreaks this year. Already there have been 30,461 acres of forest land ruined by flames.

Lightning and berry-pickers are charged with causing the majority of outbreaks.

Announcements

The thought of what treatments may cost often prevents further inquiries, but the fact that each treatment is paid for at $1 is taking instead of a certain sum of money for the whole case—makes it possible for women with even slender purses. Also the treatments are spread over a period of time, which makes it easier still. Mme. Cushman, 33 Hayward Bldg.

EMPLOYEES OF HUDSON'S BAY ENJOY PICNIC

Arrangements for Event Are Carried Out Perfectly by Efficient Staff

CHOIR RENDERS MOST ENJOYABLE NUMBERS

Outstanding in Summer events in the annual picnic of the Hudson's Bay Company and the ninth in order held yesterday was no exception to the rule. Over 1,000 persons present, the outing at Deep Cove was, in fact, acknowledged to have been the best of its kind ever held.

A pleasant feature of the afternoon was that among those present were two of the wardens of the Hudson's Bay Company's long service medal, given by them at least thirty years' service with the company. These were O. A. Robson and A. Nicolson, both residents of Victoria.

The various committees in charge of the events had spared no pains to make the day a notable one in the annals of the store. At the same time the management, as usual, co-operated to the full, interest in the enterprise and everything passed off most smoothly.

The Hudson's Bay Company numbers among its employees some excellent athletes, both among the men and the women of the staff. This was made manifest yesterday at the picnic, when the contests for the prizes offered were most keenly contested. Advantage was taken of the occasion to have the presentation made by A. J. Watson, manager of the company's store here, of the cups and prizes for the various events during the season in the different lines of athletics.

WELCOME NOVELTY

Something new was added to the programme this season by the introduction of the company's choir, which has only recently been organized under the conductorship of J. Macgregor, a member of the staff who came here from Calgary, and who is a very talented lad indeed. Before the afternoon closed this organization gave a number of selections under the baton of Mr. Macgregor, on the grounds of the Chalet, with the singers massed on the steps in front of the building. The applause which greeted the different numbers testified to the pride which the members of the staff take in the latest addition to the activities of the association.

Mr. and Mrs. Macgregor are both talented musicians, experienced in public entertainment and the choir of the Hudson's Bay Company expects better the season is not to make a name for itself among the musical organizations of the city. Mr. Macgregor has entertained in the past over the radio before coming to Victoria.

In the various athletic sports, D. Fish, for the second year, won the grand aggregate, with eight points, while the prize in this was R. Miles with seven points. In the ladies' grand aggregate the winner was Miss P. Bulls with eleven points, while Miss M. Woodley came second with seven points.

The cup for the golf championship for the season was presented to H. Hansen.

This tug-of-war attracted a great deal of interest during the afternoon. Among the ladies the single girls team of eight won from the married ladies. In the men's competitions there were four teams entered from the employees of the store in various departments. The winning team was composed of Messrs. Campion, Chapman, Kroeger, McKie, Small and Okenan.

EXCELLENT ARRANGEMENTS

Arrangements for the picnic were of the very best. At 6:30 a procession was formed of auto coaches, and in this way the great body of employees with their families and friends proceeded to the grounds. No time was lost in getting started in the games. Football proved a popular sport for the afternoon, and various teams drawn from the men and ladies present played off a series of exciting games.

At noon, lunch was served with an entire absence of confusion, thanks to the care exercised by the able committee in charge of the arrangements. In this connection the officers and the executive committee, with the various subcommittees charged with the work, deserve a great deal of praise.

This committee had the night before visited the scene and had all arrangements made in the shape of erecting marquees and placing the various arrangements in place, so that there was nothing left to do yesterday morning but to convey the equipment in the form of eatables to the scene. With the entire absence of confusion, lunchers, each at his or her own time, were served out as those present passed before the marquee. Tea was also available and the party sat down to tables erected for their convenience and enjoyed their noonday meal.

In the afternoon it appeared that not an hour passed without the serving of refreshments to appetizing form, including ice cream, watermelon and soft drinks, which the warmth of the day made most acceptable.

CAPABLE COMMITTEES

In this connection the following officers and members of the committees deserve great praise: A. J. Watson, president; R. H. Hunter, vice-president; R. Eaton, vice-president; J. Macgregor, secretary; M. Merryweather, treasurer; Misses Sweden, Dawson, Windle, McKenzie, Matthews and Rogers, G. Hansen, Messrs. Campion, C. Nicholls, P. Birkinshaw, W. Woodley, A. E. Woollard, A. D. Colleson, O. C. Clark, J. A. Davidson, A. Baines, L. Fry, L. Hutchinson, W. Williamson, L. Baker, W. Kroeger, J. Hunter, J. Campion, C. Gold, G. Coates, S. Davies and G. Wharfe.

After the sports which were held in the afternoon, tea was served before the prizes were distributed. Mrs. A. J. Watson made the presentation of these, while Mr. Watson, who takes a very deep interest in the affairs of the Employees' Association, presented the cups as previously mentioned.

The beach proved a great attraction during the day and from time to time those in attendance stole a little time from the other attractions to visit the waterfront and enjoy the bathing. The entire company returned in the cool of the evening, reaching the city before sundown.

COMMITTEE PROPOSES PARKS IMPROVEMENTS

Victoria-Saanich Body Outlines Programme for Erection of Tea and Bath Houses

Decision was reached at a meeting of the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee, held yesterday afternoon at the City Hall, to set aside the sum of $500 for the construction of a tea house to be located on the northeast side of Elk Lake Park, the work to be proceeded with early next year. A further sum of $450 is to be expended for the purpose of providing a supply of fresh water at Ocean View Park. The old water supply gave out, but the committee has located a new spring and a reservoir will be built and the water piped to the park.

A special committee, consisting of Alderman Woodward and Councillor Ingham, Councillor Somers and Mr. Harrison was appointed to bring in a report regarding the proposal to erect a tea house and bathing houses at Elk Lake beach. The committee passed accounts aggregating $2,500, and reported $3,500 still in hand. Reeve Crouch, of Saanich, was chairman of the meeting.

Local Net Star Eliminated in Washington Tourney—Doubles Provide Upsets

SEATTLE, Aug. 6.—Spilling the dope bucket contents all over the courts, Howard Langille and Lloyd Horsfall, defeated Frank Billing, ranking number two in the Pacific Northwest in the National Intersectional tennis tournament at Forest Hills, N.Y., later this month.

Harrison and Hoogs, with a string of victories in other tournaments this season, had been figured as virtually a cinch for the sectional doubles championship and the honor of traveling East. The score was 6-4, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4.

Marriage Solemnized Quietly

The marriage took place quietly yesterday afternoon at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, when Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell united Norah Helen, youngest daughter of Mrs. Mary Eachern, 134 St. Andrew's Street, and the late Mr. J. H. MacEachern, to Mr. Valdemar Frederick Bendroit, youngest son of Mrs. Bendroit and the late Capt. J. P. H. Bendroit, of Victoria. The service was attended by immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom, and there were no attendants.

* * *

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Gordon MacEachern, and wore a smart French model gown of fine pink silk crepe and a coat of pink tweed. Her hat was a shapely creation of pecorette to match her gown and was trimmed with the bridegroom's colours.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. Mr. and Mrs. Bendroit left for a motor trip up the Island, and on their return will make their home on Cedar Street. For the past six years the bride has been a member of the staff of the Bank of Montreal, Douglas and Yates Street, and was presented with a beautiful Sheffield silver tea and coffee service and Sheffield tray from her associates at the bank, while from the head office in Montreal she received a substantial cheque.

The bridegroom has been prominent in newspaper circles for some years.

Scenic Beauties Of Canada Thrill Feature Writer

Tremendously impressed with the scenery of the Canadian West, Miss Kate Tobin, feature writer of Washington, D.C., is in Victoria gathering material for special articles and travelogues dealing with the tour. She journeyed westward from Montreal and was enchanted with the beauties of the Western lakes, the grandeur of the Rockies and the luxurious hotels and bungalow camps in the mountains. The coloring and peaceful beauty of Lake Louise made a special appeal to her and she hopes to return to see more of Canada's playground.

Miss Tobin has traveled extensively in both North and South America, one of her most thrilling experiences being a ride of 100 miles over the Andes.

MANY VISITORS HERE TO ATTEND THE RACES

Armed with all requisites that belong to the followers of the turf—binoculars of every conceivable shape and size, the twinkling eye and the knowing wink—hundreds of visitors bent on matching their wits with Lady Luck, or irregling the fickle Dame Fortune, arrived in Victoria Tuesday night and Wednesday from far separated points of Canada and the United States.

They are taking in the race meet at Colwood. Practically every hotel in the city is filled with visitors and the talk around the lobbies is distinctly "racey." The majority of the racing fraternity traveled to the capital by steamer from the Mainland and American Pacific Coast points, each steamer bringing its quota to swell the lists of transient guests. A good percentage, however, did not break in on the first day of the meet and spent the day in leisure and sightseeing, the afrodisiacs records at the track indicated.

On the defense one of the cardinal principles of Bridge is that we should endeavor to force that hand which is strong to trump, and if possible to force the weak hand to trump doing so.

Lady all rules, however, there must be an exception thereto, and the great deal greater than any rule which will be taken up in the detailed play of the hand.

SALIENT POINTS IN THE BIDDING

Contract: South opens the bidding with one Spade. West bids two Diamonds; North, three Spades and East, four Diamonds. South with better than a minimum Spade bid, bids four Spades, concluding the bidding.

Auction: The initial and final bids are the same as at Contract, but North and East give their assists, one by one instead of endeavoring to bid for game as at Contract.

THE PLAY

West, whose Diamond bid has been strongly assisted by East, disregards the fact that he holds a Major tenace, and opens the Ace of Diamonds. The Dummy going down, East, sees the singleton nine of Diamonds, and makes a quick calculation as to the best method of defence. Any defence whatever must almost of necessity consist of preventing North bringing in his long Heart suit. East can hold up on this suit if necessary until the second trick at least. He can also prevent North getting in the lead with a Club after the trumps are exhausted.

There is, however, one means of entering Dummy to make the long Hearts, namely, by ruffing a Diamond. Since East has three trumps, two of which are higher than any of the four in North's hand, this means of re-entry may be immediately removed if North is forced to trump a Diamond before the Hearts are established.

East accordingly plays the ten of Diamonds and discards a deuce. West then plays the Queen of Diamonds which North trumps with the two of Spades.

Declarer is of course, suspicious of East's motives, but he can afford to take one round of trumps anyway. This trick he holds with the Jack of Spades in his own hand, and the ten falling from West, his suspicions are confirmed. Of course West may be false-carding, but if he is, there appears to be no danger in the hand.

He accordingly leads the ten of Hearts which East refuses to take. The four of hearts is next led and East takes North's Jack with his Ace.

East's only hope now is that South held but four Spades and three Hearts with West holding two of each suit. He accordingly leads the six of Hearts on which South discards the five of Clubs. South now lays down the Ace of Spades, and when West fails to follow suit, leads a third round of Diamonds, which he trumps in the Dummy. He then continues with Hearts from North's hand, over-ruffing East and then lays the Ace of Clubs, making four odd.

A Marquis, Sask., Mother's Experience

Little Joyce Taylor's mother writes: "The first three months of her life Joyce had a hard time finding a suitable food. Nothing seemed to agree with her. Then we put her on Eagle Brand and from her very first feed she came right along. I weigh by the directions on the can. Now at 12 months she is a sweet, happy child in perfect health all the time."

And from Saint John, N.B. Mrs. Gourley writes:

"One after another different foods were tried for our baby, but Una couldn't digest them. At birth she weighed 14 lbs. but she dropped to 10 lbs. at 3 months. Then we tried Eagle Brand and she began to thrive almost immediately. At 2½ years she weighed 40 lbs."

Most babies show normal progress. That is quite natural. If your baby is not steadily gaining consult your doctor. If it is a food problem, we suggest that you and your doctor consider Eagle Brand. For bottle-fed babies, Eagle Brand has been the standby of mothers for three generations. It is especially valuable in difficult feeding cases, being such a safe food—pure, uniform, easily digested. You will be pleased to see your baby begin to thrive immediately when placed on a carefully prepared Eagle Brand diet. It is highly endorsed by doctors and nurses.

Wedding Takes Place in Northland

After travelling for 7,000 miles from her homeland, an English bride-to-be recently arrived in the north, where her marriage to an employee of one of the Hudson's Bay agencies took place in St. Aidan's Mission Church at "Telegraph Creek" in the Atlin district of Northern British Columbia. The church had been built in part by friends in the Old Country.

The bride was Miss Florence May Cotton, of London, England, who was married on June 28 to William Henry Tipton, of the Hudson's Bay Company, late of Vancouver, the ceremony being performed by Commander O. T. Hodgson, O.B.E., late R.N., the minister of the Upper Stikine Mission of the Church of England. The bride looked charming in a salmon pink dress with a long veil held in place by orange blossoms, and was given away by Mrs. Edgelow, in the absence of relatives. Mr Bierman, the Hudson's Bay Company manager, acted as best man. For the wedding breakfast the party were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, of Seattle, Wash., at the Hudson's Bay Hotel.

Telegraph Creek is well known as a mining and trading centre, some four hundred miles north of Prince Rupert. There is a mission to the Indians here, with a hospital. The mission church was commenced by Rev. F. F. Thoreson, the lumber living saw at the mission mill which was supplied by friends in England and was completed by the present storyman, Commander Rev. Hodgson, with the help of the late Webster Scott Simpson, Indian agent at that point.

WORK REVIEWED

Introduced by Mr. Landsberg, the British Columbia superintendent, Mr. Robinson, who was himself blinded during the war and took special training at St. Dunstan's, London, which made it possible for him to rehabilitate himself as a self-supporting citizen, gave a concise review of what is being done under the auspices of the institute in British Columbia. As the result of last November's campaign in the province about $95,000 had been raised, since then property had been purchased on the corner of Spring and Broadway Streets, Vancouver, and a building which is to be opened in October or November was now nearing completion for the housing of the various activities planned. Two floors would be devoted to commercial activities; a third floor would be shared between factory and recreation purposes. In the basement a broom factory was being established. The main floor would be used as a shop and administration office.

Mr. Robinson also told something about the placement of blind men and women in industrial and other occupations. In British Columbia about fourteen concession stands were being operated at the present time by blind men, and the number was steadily increasing. The teaching of basketry work in all its branches was one of the important activities which the institute intended to inaugurate in the new building. More and more blind people were being fitted into the different manufacturing industries throughout the province, among the positions found for them being the manufacture of paper cartons for soda crackers, positions as glove turners, cafeteria workers, etc.

The recreational needs of the blind were not being forgotten. The top floor of the new building in Vancouver would have a recreation auditorium for monthly dances, and in the near future it was hoped to organize a club for the blind and to have rooms where blind travellers passing through Vancouver could secure accommodation for the night.

As the result of last November's campaign it had been possible to place a resident teacher in Victoria for instruction in Braille, basketry, etc. One or two concession stands were also under negotiation in this city, and it was hoped these would be in operation in a month or two.

A WARM TRIBUTE

Following Mr. Robinson's expression of thanks to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Mackenzie for their hospitality, some of the friends who had helped during the campaign last November in Victoria, Mr. A. H. Crocker, who had the misfortune to lose his sight after serving as an engineer with the C.F.B. for twenty years, paid a warm personal tribute to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and particularly to Mr. Robinson, the British Columbia Superintendent, through whom he had received great help. The splendid work of Miss McKellar, through whom he had learned basketry and been enabled to take charge of a position offered by the C.P.R., was also touched upon. Mr. Crocker spoke on behalf of all the Victoria blind when he thanked the host and hostess of the afternoon for the pleasure they had given.

Among the guests specially noted by His Honor were some Victoria men who lost their sight as the result of injuries sustained during the war, one being Mr. John Combe, formerly of the 9th Battalion, and the other Mr. E. J. Turner, formerly of the 29th Battalion.

AGED WOMEN'S HOME RECEIVES DONATIONS

The monthly meeting of the committee of the Aged Women's Home was held on Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. Mrs. Clay, the president, occupying the chair. Members present included Mesdames Gould, Grant, Vincent, Lazier, Sabiston and Whittier, and Miss O'Brien. The secretary reported that a number of applications had been received during the month, but all had to be refused, as the home is filled to capacity.

The renovations which have been going on in the home for the last few months are now practically completed and are a source of great pride to the committee and staff.

Donations were received as follows: Magazines, Mrs. A. E. Hume; porter, flowers, Mrs. Scroggie, Mrs. Gillett, Pollock Bros., and the Victoria Floral Company. The ladies who are inmates of the home and who benefited by the generosity of the sons of the late Mrs. C. P. Todd, who gave a $20 bill to each inmate, express their gratitude and thanks to the donors. Mrs. Todd was at all times a good friend to the home, never failing to remember the inmates, especially at Christmas time.

Pretty Wedding Is Solemnized

ROYAL OAK, Aug. 6—A quiet wedding took place at St. Michael's Church, Royal Oak, on Tuesday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, when she wear, Rev. F. Comlay, united in marriage Mr. Robert Rippon Duke Taylor, fourth son of Mrs. Herbert Taylor, of Quarantine Road, Metchosin, and Miss Edna Daley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Francis Daley, of Vermillion, Alta.

The altar was prettily decorated with flowers, the bridal party standing under an arch of sweet peas and roses. The bride made a charming picture in a gown of sand color flat crepe. She carried a bouquet of pink and white roses, the gift of Mr. Miller, of Metchosin. Her only attendant was Miss Marion Taylor, sister of the groom, who wore a pretty frock of orchid silk. Her flowers were roses and sweet peas. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. John Taylor.

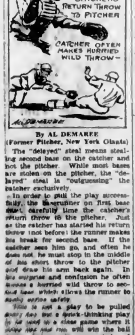
Bill Tilden Advances at Southampton

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y., Aug. 6.—Bill Tilden defeated J. Gilbert Hall, of Montclair, N.J., by scores of 6-3, 1-6, 8-4 today in the third round of the Southampton tournament. A foul round default and a win over Bennett, New York, 6-4, 6-1, earlier enabled Tilden to reach the fourth round by his victory over Hall.

Tilden, who returned yesterday after months of international play abroad, was pressed in the fourth round by his friend and doubles partner, Francis T. Hunter. The sturdy new Rochelle, N.Y., publisher also dropped a set in his third round match, but finally won from David N. Jones, Columbia University player, 14-12, 3-6, 6-0.

Big League BASEBALL



By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher, New York Giants)

The "delayed" steal means steal by second base on the catcher and not the pitcher. While most bases are stolen on the pitcher, the "delayed" steal is "judgmental" on the catcher exclusively.

In order to pull the play successfully, the Baserunner on first base must carefully time the catcher's return throw to the pitcher. Just as the catcher has started the return throw (not before) the runner makes his break for second base. If the catcher sees him go, and offers he does not be made in the direction of his chest, throw to the pitcher and draw his arm back again. In his surprise and confusion he often throws a hurried wild throw to second base which allows the runner safely safely.

This is not a play to be pulled every day, but a quick-thinking play to be used in a close game where it may win the run. It will win the ball game. It is usually unexpected, and the very audacity of the play makes it successful.

Chemainus Wins Vancouver Island Senior "B" Title

CHEMAINUS, Aug. 6.—The C. J. Ryan Cup, emblematic of the Senior "B" baseball championship of Vancouver Island, will rest in the Chemainus Recreation Club for the next twelve months. The locals won the title on Sunday, when they defeated Alberni 14-7, and finished a full game ahead of Courtenay, which is the first time since 1912 that the coveted trophy has found a resting place here.

British Athletes Leave For Empire Sports Meet

Team Given Great Send-Off at Southampton Before Sailing for Canada—Official Line-Up of Squad Announced

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Aug. 6—If the potential success of the first Empire games at Hamilton, Ont., can be measured by the enthusiasm which marked the departure of the British team for Canada today, then Imperial athletics has become, through the vision, enterprise and generosity of Canada, as much a factor in Imperial unity as cricket. By the successful inauguration of these games Canada will immediately place herself in line with the great sporting units of the Empire such as Australia and South Africa.

The platform at Waterloo, where the boat train was taken, was the rendezvous for many happy groups of athletes and their wives, sweethearts and friends.

Sir Harry Barclay headed the British athletic party comprising the flower of Britain's athletic youth, including that redoubtable lore, Lord Burghley, and Roger Leighton, son of the chairman of the British Empire games committee. With Sir Harry there were Mr. R. Barrand, honorary treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Association, A. B. Tunn, vice chairman of the Southern Counties A.A.; E. A. Holt, championship secretary of the A.A.A.; and Dennis Lyons, secretary of the Midlands A.A.

Photographers were busy a few minutes before the train left, snapping pictures of the various groups.

Sir Harry Barclay, in an interview with Reuter's special correspondent, who accompanying the team to Hamilton, said all his athletes were fit, and were going out to try their hardest to bring back the honors of the games to the Mother Country. He asked Reuter's to convey to Canada and the city of Hamilton the team's warmest appreciation of the inspiration, generosity and hospitality, which had actuated Canada in their gallant effort to inaugurate the games.

Glorious sunshine attended the departure of the team at both Waterloo and Southampton. Many friends were in waiting here to wish the team a final "bon voyage." The liner Duchess of Atholl set out for Montreal with the athletic contingent. The only note of disappointment was struck by Mr. Loughlins, who received a message that Reid, the Indian runner, who is a fine wrestler, had suddenly developed a pulse and generally left his wishes from the team. He was expected to be a certain winner at Hamilton.

100 Yards—S. E. Engelhart, J. C. Heap, R. L. Page, R. T. Simmons.

MONTREALER DETHRONES EDDIE HELD

Defending Champion Beaten by Carroll Stuart 2 and 1

ROSS SOMERVILLE MOVES TO QUARTERS

Third Day of Canadian Amateur Produces Keen Matches

LONDON HUNT CLUB, LONDON, Ont., Aug. 6.—A new Canadian amateur golf champion will be crowned this afternoon as the result of the second day of match play in the annual tournament here today. Eddie Held, of Great Neck, N.Y., the first American ever to take the Canadian crown, went down to defeat this afternoon at the hands of Carroll M. Stuart, young Montreaker, who won over the event at Jasper Park, Alberta, last year, had a lead of two holes over Stuart in the end of the eighteenth, but wild driving and mediocre putting there first nine lost the New Yorker the match, 2 and 1.

This was a day of colorful and brilliant golf with spectacular upsets, of marvelous comebacks, played under an all-day lone searching sun.

As a result of the day's play there will be three international matches in the quarter finals tomorrow, which promise to provide some keen golf.

J. Wood Platt, of the Aronimink Club of Philadelphia, will meet Nicol Thompson, Jr., of the Cedar Brook Club of Toronto. This will be the first match out.

Carroll Stuart, of the Islemere Club, Montreal, will be up against the brilliant golfer of long tournament experience, Jack Cameron, of Laval Sur le Lac Club. Making it an all Montreal match.

J. Raymond Ferguson, of the Whitemarsh Valley Club, Philadelphia, will have Fred G. Hobbitzel, of the Toronto Lakeed Club as his opponent.

Probably the most interesting match of the day will be that between C. Ross Somerville, of the London Hunt, twice Canadian amateur champion, and Frank Connolly, of the Hawthorn Valley Club, of Cincinnati. Connolly shot a medal score of 67, three under par, this afternoon, holing out every putt and playing three un-par holes just as fast as he could do. Somerville was over par on both his rounds.

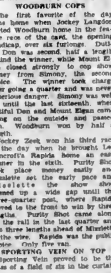
Europe May Stage Next Title Bout

HAVRE, France, Aug. 5.—A match for the heavyweight championship of the world, between Max Schmeling, the German, and Jack Sharkey, of London, is the main purpose of a conference here today of boxing promoter, in sailing today for the United States.

Dickson, accompanied by "Pa" Stribling, the Georgia heavyweight father-manager, announced he was going to New York to try to obtain the signature of Joe Jacobs, the German boxing promoter, to a contract calling for Schmeling to meet Stribling in a twelve-round bout in September.

The Birthings are reported to have agreed to a reasonable percentage, and the battle now depends upon Jacobs and what demands he may make in behalf of Schmeling.

Club in Line With Ground in Drive



By SOL METZGER

From close observation of Miss Helen Hicks, one of America's leading women golfers, she thing is certain that she intends to drive through the ball on a line almost, if not exactly, parallel to the ground when she drives for the fairway.

Note the sketch of her as her driver is entering the speed area of the swing. Her hips have glided forward, her body is braced by her straight left leg, and her clubhead is quite low, almost on a line directly back from the ball.

In tomorrow's article let us view her after her clubhead has swept the ball from the tee in order to better judge whether one can swing the clubhead straight through the ball and on the direction line.

Longshots Rule at First Day's Racing At Mile Enclosure

Favorites Find Going Difficult and Ponies Return Good Prices—Close Finishes Prove Exciting to Fans—Zeek Has Big Day

Race followers who journeyed to the Colwood mile enclosure for the opening day of the Island racing meeting on the sport of kings, got its best. Although the crowd was not as large as on first days in recent years and the betting light, the card was one of the best seen at the layout, with several close finishes thrilling the patrons.

Favorites found the going tough, and many times of late in the day, choices lasted long enough on the grueling home stretch drive, which the Colwood course is noted for, to get past the judges' stand in first place.

The first four gallops found longprices ponies reaching the wire first and accordingly some ludicrous odds were posted up—but none of the long shots were victorious. Zeek Ross, the largest price of the card winner the fifth entry were the third race to pay off around twenty bucks, with $26.90 for their two-dollar tickets.

Woodburn captured the Opening Handicap, the feature race of the day, after a good ride by Jockey Longdon. Woodburn took the fifth event and was the first favorite of the day to get the nod from the judges.

Jockey Zeek had a big day in the saddle. He piloted three first-money winners, a third, Swift rode two winners, Lovejoy piloted a brace of first-money in Dossier and In the Eye.

The new starting gate was used for the first three races, but when it was found it was giving the ponies much havoc with the soft track, it was abandoned and will be used again if the track hardens up.

EXCITING FINISH

The first race provided an exciting finish as anyone could wish to see. The field of eleven was bunched throughout the six furlong route with Logan O. a little fancied gelding, doing most of the work. Met, second in the public betting, Maurice Meldrum was a head behind the place horse, just managing to shade Jess Havelle, the favorite, in copping the show bracket. The rest of the field was hardly separated by five lengths, with the exception of Green Rock, who fell on the first turn. Neither horse nor Jockey Marshall was injured in the spill. Jockey Zeek rode the winner and brought the Drumstone entry through on the inside. Overtaken at the wire was Green Ink the race. Logan O paid $18.60 to win.

Jockey Swift made it two winners when he brought home Bele Somers a neck winner over Bee Somers in the second race. Tom Tulip, third, two lengths behind the place horse and just outdistanced Edwell II who was fourth. Bee Somers opened up a wide gap on the finish, but failed to stave off the strong challenge of the winner from the home stretch, but was an easy second. The favorite Albert Jr. failed to stick and was well down the field. Bele Somers and Tom Low sided up at the post and held the field up about two minutes.

DOSSIER SURPRISES

Dossier, a rank outsider, sprung a surprise when he beat out the favorite, Coeur de Lion, by half a length to win the third race over a mile and seventy yards. The winner was rated back in the early racing, moved up when called upon and took command on the last sixteenth. Wikny Blossoms, the second choice, finished third after setting the pace, along with Coeur de Lion. Jockey Swift gave Dossier a great ride.

Coming on the outside with a terrific stretch drive, the Fox, with Swift piloting his second straight winner, sprung another upset in capturing the fourth race. Nimbus, the favorite, was second and Bay Lad, the second choice, third. Bay Lad set the early pace and rounded the turn for home with a half length lead. Over Honey Thistle On the grueling home stretch drive Bay Lad wilted, and Honey Thistle forced to the front, but the latter did not have enough to stave off the closing rush of the winner. Bay Lad tired and finally left to get show money from the fast-closing Bouncing Ball.

The first favorite of the day came home when Jockey Longdon piloted Woodburn home in the feature race of the day, the opening handicap, over six furlongs. Dutiful Dan was second and a bright behind the winner, while Wheatgen closed strongly to cop show money from Sonny, the second choice. The winner took charge after going a quarter and was never in serious danger. Sonny was well up until the last sixteenth, when Dutiful Dan and Mount Elgan came along on the outside and passed him. Woodburn won by half a length.

Jockey Zeek won his third race of the day when he brought Bill Bancroft's Rapida home an easy winner in the sixth. Purity Shot took place money easily and finished in the fourth place. Miss Mistletoe the show shot opened up a wide gap until the three-quarter post, where Rapida moved to the front to win by three lengths. Purity Shot came along on the rail in the last quarter and was three lengths ahead of Mistletoe at the wire. Rapida was the public choice. Only five ran.

SPORTING VEIN ON TOP

Sporting Vein proved to be the class of a field of six in the curtain event and won easily after taking the lead at the half. Mad Boy copped second money from the fast-tiring Frank Collier, who finished third. Sporting Vein won by about two lengths, while Mad Boy just nosed out Frank Collier in taking the place. The latter was favorite.

GIBSON'S HOMER SETTLES BATTLE

Circuit Drive in Ninth Gives Hustlers Victory Over Thistles

FINAL GAME TOMORROW

Eddie Gibson's home run in the ninth inning with two men on gave the Hustlers the Senior championship, a 14-11 victory over the Bastion Thistles, "A" Section monarchs, last evening at Central Park in the play-off series for the Victoria and District Senior "A" championship.

Twice during the game the winners evened the series and a third game will be played Friday evening at Central Park to decide the title-holders. "The Thistles slowed the game smoothly and soon went out in front with a commanding lead, but during the last three innings the Hustlers rall

JOKERS EVEN UP BALL PLAY-OFF

B.C. Cricketers Play to Draw With Alberta

Defeat Elks 11-4 in Second Tussle; Third Game Tomorrow

Winners Play Good Ball Behind Effective Hurling of Wes Stickney—Losers Use Two Chuckers to Stem Attack

OKEFE climbed right back in the running for the Senior Amateur Baseball League pennant last night, when they checked up with a 11-4 victory over the Elks, in the second game of the play-offs at the Royal Athletic Park last night. The aniline crew went away with the initial [illegible] by a 6-5 score, and were favored to take two straight from the Jokers. However, last year's champions, by their decisive victory, have cast a different complexion on the whole matter, and are expected to enter the final game Friday night, slight favorites over the Elks.

Jokers started in to score from the first inning in last night's encounter, and for the remainder of the tussle, were never headed. They scored once in the first inning, three times in the second stanza, twice in the next canto; twice in the sixth inning, and three times in the seventh.

Elks scored once in the second inning; once in the sixth session, and twice in the seventh stanza.

STICKNEY IS VICTOR

Wes Stickney, veteran southpaw, was assigned the job of holding the Elks in check, and he did it. The antlered crew found difficulty in connecting with his deceptive offerings and collected but nine scattered blows. He keyed four.

Wade Steele, another veteran compatriot, paraded to the hillock against the Jokers, but his offerings were not quite as troublesome. Steele stayed for five and one-third innings, during which time he was nicked for ten safeties, which gave the Jokers ten runs. Les Holden's circuit smash over the left field fence in the sixth inning, with one man on, was Steele's signal to the dugout. Jimmy Dangerfield, was rushed to check the Jokers' attack, but failed. In his one and two-thirds innings on the slab, Jokers nicked him for two hits and checked in three runs.

While a number of sparkling catches were pulled off, McKenzie's sensational one-handed catch of Dewey's line drive in the second inning, checked a dangerous scoring bee on the part of the Jokers.

The batting feature was furnished by Les Holden, who collected a homer, a double and three singles out of five trips.

Tommy Bowden, Elks' catcher, clouted a circuit smash in the second for his teammate's only run in that inning.

Jack Morgan, who on Monday night collected three successive circuit smashes, found difficulty connecting with Stickney's offerings, and only got a single. He sacrificed once and was hit by a pitched ball the other time.

I.B.A.A. OARSMEN TO LEAVE SATURDAY

Junior Fours and Doubles Crews to Represent Local Club at Kelowna Regatta

Six oarsmen bearing the colors of the J.B.A.A. will leave Saturday afternoon en route for the Interior of the province, where they will face the starter in the twenty-fourth annual regatta of the Kelowna Athletic Club in the British Columbia Interior championships on August 13 and 14. Junior fours and doubles are the two crews that will send their way to Kelowna, bent on returning with some of the honors.

A few weeks ago the veteran athletic association had lined up two strong senior crews along with the juniors, but, owing to the wishes of the Kelowna officials, the J.B.A.A. withdrew their senior rowers from the competition. For the past two weeks or more the six oarsmen have been out training at the club's boat quarters at the Gorge under the careful eye of their coach, Dan O'Sullivan.

Stroked by Ivan Randell and composed of Phil Ford, 6; Jimmy Mann, 4; Frank Cole, bow, the junior fours have yet to be beaten, having cleaned up everything in recent regattas, including the M.P.A.A.O. at Brentwood. They will be closely watched by the Mainland crews when the various shells line up before the starter.

Ivan Randall and F. H. Francis will fly colors of the J.B.A.A. in the junior doubles and are expected to give a good account of themselves if not come abreast to be beaten. Jimmy Mann, senior, will accompany the crews.

CHOCOLATE AND BERG WILL BATTLE TONIGHT

Interest Is Lukewarm for Ten-Round Go at Polo Grounds

GATE EXPECTED TO AROUND $150,000

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The innocent must suffer with the guilty, as "Kid" Chocolate and Jack "Kid" Berg are beginning to discover.

Madison Square Garden officials have been disturbed over the disappointing advance sale for the Chocolate-Berg battle in the Polo Grounds tomorrow night. Cash customers have been an source Garden officials have revised their original estimates of the "gate" from $200,000 to $150,000.

Most of the blame for the public's lukewarm interest in this battle of two of the current boxing era's most popular figures has been placed to some quarters on the epidemic of fouls and generally unsatisfactory endings of most of the big bouts in the last year.

Apparently Chocolate and Berg, neither of whom wins or loses on fouls, will have to share the loss along with the Garden.

The weight question seems to bother the experts, especially since reports have become general that Chocolate has taken on weight so fast he may have trouble keeping down to the featherweight limit should he ever want to go after that title.

The Cuban star's handlers, however, declared Chocolate would tip the beam at little more than 126 pounds at weighing-in ceremonies tomorrow afternoon. Berg, who has fought as high as 141 pounds, will have no trouble making the 134½-2 pounds his contract calls for but probably will be three or four pounds heavier by the time he enters the ring.

STAND TO BE BUILT FOR SCULLING RACES

Bleachers to Seat 5,000 Will Be Constructed at Hamilton for Empire Games

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 6.—Arrangements to take care of the crowd at the sculling races on the bay during the British Empire games here have been completed by the games committee and with the rental of considerable property along the western edge of the city it will be possible to erect bleachers seating more than five thousand opposite the finishing mark for all races.

The forerunner of the English team arrived yesterday in the person of Jack Phelps, a well known oarsman and a member of a famous family of rowers. Phelps has charge of the English shells and will act as trainer to the British scullers here.

England's eight will be made up of the following men: R. Clee-Brooke, Howitt, G. Crawford, Boardman, Edwards, G. Hardy, W. Fitzwilliam and T. H. O'Brien. There are two coxswains, Justin Brown, the Cambridge Blue, and Ebenezer. The four will be composed of W. Fitzwilliam, G. Hardy, Edwards and Boardman. In the single sculls England will be represented by either Bradley, of London, or Bergsford. Both are internationally known for their prowess on the water and, no matter which one rows, the spectators are assured a treat.

The eight will wear the colors of the London Rowing Club and will be under the watchful eye of G. Drinkwater, ex-Oxford Blue, and one of the Old Country's most capable coaches. It is expected that the rowers will arrive in Hamilton about August 16.

BUICKS WILL OPPOSE THE FORDS TONIGHT

Garage Baseball League Clubs to Hook Up in Important Encounter

Fighting for the right to enter the Garage Baseball League play-offs, Buicks nine will oppose the Fords, last year's champions, at the Royal Athletic Park tonight at 6 o'clock. "Cotton" Brynjolfson will umpire. Tonight's fixture is a replay of a previous tied game.

Doc Todd, veteran slab artist, will go to the mound for the Fords, while Walter Battiston, southpaw, is expected to do the heavy work for the Buicks.

The second round of the Poodle Dog Cup knockout series will be played tomorrow evening with three games scheduled. McDowell and Mann will face the Hustlers on the upper grounds, Central Park, with Bob White in charge, while New Royals will journey to North Saanich with Ernie Stock calling them. I.B.A.A. will meet the Hillcrests at Work Point Barracks. Steve Redgrave will umpire. All games will commence at 6.30 o'clock.

NEW STYLE OF GOLF MAY BE STARTED HERE

Captain Sheffield is In City to Interest People in Lawn Game

WILL BE FIRST OF ITS KIND IN CANADA

CAPT. T. W. SHEFFIELD

Victoria will have the first miniature lawn golf course in the Dominion of Canada if negotiations are carried out as planned by Captain T. W. Sheffield, former Victorian, now residing in Los Angeles, who is in the city to interest the public in the new game.

The course, proposed by Captain Sheffield, will be located in the central portion of the city and will be different from the ordinary "Tom Thumb" courses which are taking the country by storm. It will be an eighteen-hole layout, in which special light balls and clubs will prevent the player from hitting long drives.

The ball to be used will be about a quarter of the weight of the regular ball and can be driven only 105 feet when hit with full force. Adjustable clubs for either right or left-handers will be introduced to Victorians for the first time.

The game is said to be fascinating and easy to learn. It can be played without tedious delays of having to change apparel before and after the play, and for that reason it will appeal to the well-dressed and discriminating persons. The game can be played with the sacrifice of less time than the majority of other pastimes of such a nature.

SWIMMING AUTHORITY

Captain Sheffield is one of the world's foremost authorities on life-saving and swimming, having written several books on the subject. While in Canada in 1908 he swam across Niagara below the suspension bridge, and represented the country in the world's life-saving competition in London, for the King Edward VII Cup in 1911, and tying with C. M. Daniels, the world's champion speed swimmer, for the same trophy in 1908. In 1909 he also attempted to swim the English Channel from Dover to the shores of France and covered twenty-seven miles.

In 1919 he was appointed divisional field representative, Pacific Division, American Red Cross. Many of the best life-savers on the Coast and nine hundred members of the R.O.T.C. at Camp Kearsney in 1919 were instructed by him, under the command of General Kuhen. For his fifteen years voluntary service in life-saving he was made an honorary life member of the Royal Life-Saving Society of Great Britain.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

It Is Possible to Play Nine Innings on Nine Pitched Balls—First batter triples on first pitched ball. Pitcher takes position in box to pitch to second batter, runner on third decides to steal home, pitcher steps from box and throws home. Batter interferes with throw. Therefore, the batter is out, and the runner goes back to third. The next two batters go out in same way. This is repeated for the entire nine innings, and only one ball is pitched each inning. Technically this is possible, but, of course, highly improbable.

LEADING ROLES CALL FOR VARIOUS TYPES

Many Different Seen in "Women Everywhere," Now Playing At Dominion

"Women Everywhere," the Fox Movietone all-talking romance, directed by Alexander Korda, and featuring J. Harold Murray and Fifi Dorsay, which opens today at the Dominion Theatre, is remarkable for the many different types required for its most important roles.

The players, in addition to Murray and Miss Dorsay, are George Grossmith, dean of the English stage and actor of the world's oldest theatrical family; Rose Dione, famous French actress, former member of Sarah Bernhardt's company, who deserted the theatre for a highly successful screen career.

Murray, in the picture, plays the part of a rough and ready Yankee sea captain, owner-master of a tramp steamer engaged in the rum trade. His crew is a group of arms and ammunition consigned to rebellious natives of French Morocco during a lull in the bootleg trade, is captured by the French military authorities, escapes, and is saved from death by Fifi Dorsay in her role of dancer and entertainer at the "Cafe of the Squinting Cat," in Casablanca.

COLISEUM FEATURES DOUBLE PROGRAMME

Another famous Broadway stage hit has come to the talking screen in "Not So Dumb," Marion Davies' new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, which will open at the Coliseum Theatre today.

Known as "Dulcy," the play, which was the work of George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly, enjoyed a record-breaking run in New York with Lynn Fontaine in the featured role. Also on the same bill is "To Kiss." Greta Garbo's new starring vehicle, filmed by Jacques Feyder, noted French director. This is a picture which combines powerful dramatic intensity with artistic photography. On the stage Miss Elaine Luker makes her first appearance in the city. Miss Elaine Luker, who has a beautiful soprano voice, will sing popular and classical songs.

CAPITOL Among the thousands THEATRE who praised "All quiet on the Western Front" as the greatest human document of the war was General Sir Ian Hamilton, president of the British Legion, in London, who wrote Erich Maria Remarque entreating him to write another book transfixing the legends and illusions of the glory of battle. Universal's dramatic picturization of "All Quiet" is drawing record crowds to the Capitol Theatre.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol—"All Quiet on the Western Front," starring Lewis Ayres.

Coliseum—Marion Davies in "Not So Dumb."

Dominion—Harold Murray in "Women Everywhere."

Playhouse — "Wall Street," starring Aileen Pringle.

Crystal Garden—Swimming and Dancing.

ROMANTIC SIDE OF WALL STREET SHOWN

A timely topic—one that has been of prime importance for the past few months—the activities of the New York Stock Exchange—has been brought to the screen in a novel and romantic manner. The picture is "Wall Street," the Columbia all-talking film of love and finance with Aileen Pringle and Ralph Ince in the leading roles—it opens at the Playhouse Theatre today.

A picture of gripping realism, it tells a story of how a gigantic power on Wall Street is crushed only to win in his defeat that which all the money in the world could not buy—love. There is plenty of suspense and quite a few thrills. The cast gives convincing and capable performances. R. William Neill has directed the production skilfully.

TWO-GUN LOVEMAKER IN ADVENTUROUS ROLE

"Under a Texas Moon," Warner Brothers' first 100 per cent talking, singing, outdoor picture in technicolor comes to the Columbia Theatre today.

The cast includes Raquel Torr, Myrna Loy, Armida, Noah Beery, Georgie Stone, George Cooper, Fred Kohler, Betty Boyd, Charles Sellon and Bruce Covington. The screen adaptation of the Rawson Edward White story is by Gordon Rigby, and Michael Curtis directed.

"HIGH TREASON" CAST IN WONDERFUL SETS

In "High Treason," the all-talking picture coming to the Playhouse Theatre next week, there are some of wonderful "sets" in the film, notably the London of 1940 showing the ruins of Charing Cross Bridge, a gigantic set of New York's skyscrapers, the bombing of which is one of the big incidents of the film and the Channel Tunnel. Jameson Thomas, Benita Hume, Humberston Wright and Basil Gill are the stars and the recording of their voices is perfect. The film was directed by Maurice Elvey.

NOTED BARITONE IS VISITOR IN VICTORIA

MR. CECIL FANNING

Among the several distinguished musicians who have come to Victoria for a holiday this Summer is Cecil Fanning, a baritone of international reputation, who arrived yesterday for a month's visit as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Turgeh, "Villa di Grassa," Rockland Avenue.

Mr. Fanning, who has had concert tours in nearly every country in Europe and America, lives at present in Columbia, Ohio, where he has permanent positions as soloist at the Jewish Synagogue and at the Baptist Church, although he is constantly touring in concert as well.

In addition to being a singer, he is a composer and poet of some distinction. Among the best known of his writings is the libretto of the Indian opera, "Alkibia," an opera which has been sung several times by Metropolitan Opera singers. All the characters in the story are Indians, with a single exception, and this role of the Indian scout was sung in all the productions by Edwin Johnson. He has brought with him his latest libretto, which received highly favorable criticism when read recently before the Operatic Guild of America.

FIRE BRIGADES TO COMPETE AT COURTENAY FAIR

May Queens From Island Centres Invited to Attend In State

MANY TROPHIES AND PRIZES ARE OFFERED

COURTENAY, Aug. 6.—The directors of the Comox Agricultural Association met on Tuesday evening to concentrate on preparations for the Fall fair here early next month. R. S. Baker was appointed chairman of a special sports committee for fair day, and it is hoped that the committee will be able to arrange a motorcycle hurdle contest, steer riding and other popular events. Mr. Baker reported that the Duncan, Alberni, Cumberland and Courtenay fire brigades will compete in demonstrations here on Fair Day, September 18. The sports committee will also stage the annual fair dance. The work of catering to the crowds will be entrusted to the members of the Women's Institute.

This year the May Queens of the surrounding centres will be invited to attend the fair in state on the suggestion of residents of Hornby Island.

A special class for a display by Women's Institutes, with a handsome silver cup offered by the Canadian Bank of Commerce and supplanted subject to the approbation, is likely to draw a number of entries from institutes in the district.

A large number of trophies and special prizes have been secured, in addition to prize money amounting to $2,000 offered by the association. The Royal Bank's silver cup for the sheep classes has been won two years in succession by A. R. England, who will retain the cup permanently if again successful this year.

The directors present were: P. H. Bullock, in the chair, and W. Duncan, R. U. Hurford, James Cannave, J. W. Stalker, E. P. Thomas, A. R. Ragland, Mrs. Walter McPhee and Mrs. W. Brown.

ROSEGROWERS SHOULD KEEP FAMILY RECORD OF ROOTS AND SCIONS

The well-known authority upon rose diseases of ornamentals, Dr. C. Weiss, of Washington, D.C., was a recent visitor at the Saanichton laboratory. He was particularly interested in our studies of the disease of roses, "infectious chlorosis," which causes the foliage to become leathery and yellow or mottled in appearance. Our studies reveal that the rose stock, Manetti, is particularly susceptible, but thornless Multiflora is fortunately immune. The latter rose stock is commonly used in British Columbia.

Dr. Weiss supported the practice of British Columbia nurserymen, who are maintaining records of the blood lines of their root and scion rose stocks. He believes that the high standard of British Columbia roses can be maintained, if the nurserymen will bud from and upon rose stocks whose history has shown them to be free from all signs of the diseases which cause degeneration. Leathery, yellow or mottled foliage are signs of degeneration.

Dr. Weiss is in charge of the investigations of the United States Department of Agriculture upon diseases of ornamentals. He has promised to cooperate with the Saanichton laboratory in the development of control measures for diseases affecting ornamentals in British Columbia.

COURTENAY DEFERS STREET SURFACING UNTIL NEXT YEAR

COURTENAY, Aug. 6.—The City Council had a short but busy session at the City Hall on Monday night. Mayor Macintyre and all the aldermen, with the exception of Alderman Wallis, were present. Plans were discussed for the celebration of the opening of the Denman Island ferry, and it is probable that a party of city officials will accompany the ferry on its first regular trip. Progress was reported in the preparations for the reception of the British Columbia and Yukon Press Association delegates convening here in the near future.

DAIRY INSPECTION

The report of the Medical Health Officer covering the inspection of dairies supplying milk in the city was further dealt with, and it was decided to enforce the provisions of the by-law in the case of an offender.

The mayor, in referring to two of the properties which have recently reverted to the city under the better homes scheme, pointed out to the committee the necessity of disposing of these properties immediately or revoking them on demand. Mayor Macintyre also reported a nuisance in the garage men of the city when a large majority of them were in favor of the present Sunday closing by-law. Under the circumstances the mayor thought the council would be well advised to allow the by-law to stand.

STREET SURFACING

In answer to an inquiry, Alderman Brown, of the Public Works Committee, announced that there would be no larva surfacing of streets within the city this year. Next year, however, it is proposed to carry out a further extensive programme of permanent improvements to the city streets.

The water committee reported that the work of protecting the water main along the river was progressing satisfactorily and that a dam at the intake had been constructed. Present indications are that a larger water main will be required to take care of the consumption in the near future. All city hydrants are to be given a coat of paint.

Daily Service to Powell River From Comox to Be Given

COURTENAY, Aug. 6.—Captain John Vernon, with a seventy-foot Diesel-engined boat similar to a Fraser River fish packer, is to commence a daily boat service from Comox to Powell River. It is expected that the boat will arrive here within ten days to commence this service. In connection with the boat, Captain Vernon is expected to operate a produce warehouse in Courtenay with selling facilities in the paper town.

SCOUTS ACTIVE AT SALT SPRING CAMP

Sixty Cowichan District Boys Attend — Bridge Repaired

COWICHAN, Aug. 6.—The Cowichan District Scout Camp, held at Burgoyne Bay, Salt Spring Island, from July 31 to August 2, proved an outstanding success. Sixty boys attended the camp and had a glorious time. The Duncan and Quamichan troops were under canvas for nine days and then the tents were occupied by their Wolf Cub Packs.

The time passed very quickly in a round of scouting activities, swimming games and hikes. Cricket enthusiasts collected in the bowery pastime. Each day began with physical drill, followed by the flag, and ended with campfire entertainments in which each camper took his part. The most enjoyable items in the programme were the Ambboree experiences related by the Quamichan representatives, Rover Scout A. McInnes; the true Indian stories of Arnbrosse H. A. Collison, and the yarns about his Gurkha regiment told by Col. F. M. Dopping-Hepenstal.

The special scouting activities embraced the establishment of signal lamp communication with Maple Bay, four miles away; the construction of excellent benches of cedar and fir boughs, and the repair of an important bridge leading into camp.

Over 100 visitors were shown over the camp and entertained to tea.

Much of the success of the camp was due to the excellent leadership of Rover Scout A. McInnes, Patrol Leaders M. McLaughlin, J. Green, F. Colier, R. Reliff and Second V. Jaynes.

The tent competition was won by the Duncan Beaver Patrol, the Quamichan Wolf Patrol coming a good second. The Duncan Lion Patrol was awarded first place in the bivouac competition, and Scout R. Kelleman won the quick thinking pionship.

The Cubs, in spite of their youth and inexperience, quickly settled down, and by the end of the week became real seasoned campers. They greatly enjoyed the initiation by Captain Brock, who visited the camp one evening with his piratical gang.

The camp chief was District Scoutmaster (Rev.) Arthur Roche-Lacey, who was assisted by Scoutmaster (Col.) F. M. Dopping-Hepenstal (Quamichan), Akela (Arnbrosse) H. A. Collison (Quamichan), and Rover Scout A. McInnes.

The Scouts and Cubs are very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. R. Maxwell, who so kindly placed the campsite at their disposal; to Messrs. C. E. Frombine and J. C. Walcot, who transported the Cubs free of charge from Maple Bay; and to Ralph Dopping-Hepenstal, who did a great deal of transportation work across the bay.

The assistant provincial commissioner, H. T. Ravenhill, spent several days in camp and took the campfire service on Sunday night. The Cubs also had the pleasure of a visit from Provincial Commissioner W. Barway.

OBITUARY

HARVEY—George Forbes Harvey, superintendent of the Puntledge power plant of the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir), Limited, for many years, died August 6 in the Cumberland General Hospital at the age of fifty-six years. He had been failing in health for some time, and a few weeks ago was admitted to the local hospital, but his illness did not cause any alarm to his many friends and his death came as a distinct shock to many of the residents throughout the district, who had known the passing of a genial soul. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

CHAPTER XXVIII

Entertainment was in full swing, excitement was high in the place on the Drive one night when Moy searched out his employer and found him on one of the upper floors. This was not Moy's night off and Sam was surprised to see him, but the Korean explained that he had been forced to come.

A gentleman had called up Sam's house on the telephone an hour or so before and had insisted upon speaking with him. The man was both uncomplimentary and unrefined. Moy had told him to go to hell.

After a lapse of time the person had appeared in the flesh, he had stormed into Sa's house, shattering its dignified repose with loud profanities and strident demands for immediate audience with the owner on a matter of life and death. He had finally given Moy a dime bit and begged him immediately to lead the way to his employer. He was below at this instant.

Wagner's face was haggard, it was shoddy, now lines had bitten into it. When Sam spoke to him he started, he mumbled a hoarse apology at intruding. His expression was one of minglied loathing and entreaty as he said:

"I've been looking all over—I've got to see you alone."

"I assume it must be terribly important or—"

"Alanna's sick. Terribly sick. She—" The speaker's voice failed him, the words stuck in his throat. "She's calling for you."

Sam closed his eyes. Through the blaring of horns, the din of frenzied voices, the scuffling of feet he heard Wagner imploring him. "For God's sake, come with me! I—won't take long. Hurry, please, er—I'm afraid she's—dying"

On legs that threatened to give way under him Sam followed the older man down and out into the street. A car was waiting and in a this they hurried.

Sam inquired through numb lips. "What has happened? Why does she want to see me? What can I do?"

"She doesn't know she's calling for you, she's delirious. Best as I could make out she has looked you up if it wasn't necessary!"

"Perhaps you'd better tell me what happened to her."

"I don't know exactly. She's been hitting it up, running wild for months. I couldn't do a thing with her. I just—worried. I suppose she were out, burned up, anywhere she pleased, all of a sudden. This was several days ago. I didn't think much of it at first. . . . Oh, I have been hell, dancing around, unable to do anything! I'm about all in. Of course I got the best doctors and a couple of nurses. Some time yesterday—she began—er—somehow your name popped into her mind. I think there. Did that it mean anything—"

"I understand."

"Well, the nurses began to ask who Sam Lee was, and if I could get hold of him just to quiet her. She doesn't know what she's saying any more than a parrot; she hasn't mentioned your name in months. Not more than once or twice since we left Pueblo. Anyhow the doctor seemed to think—I'm acting on his orders, see? He said he often had, to humor people with brain fever, give 'em what they wanted."

For a while the two rode in a silence broken only by an occasional incoherency from the father and by his heavy breathing. "Tonight's the crisis. The doctor says—"

"Sal. You let it go as long as you dared."

"Through till morning she'll be all right. Or if we could get her to rest; to quit muttering, even for an hour or so. . . . They don't know who you are—the doctor and the nurses. I mean, and I didn't tell 'em—"

"Don't worry; I won't tell them, either. And you needn't fear that I'll presume when she recovers. I appreciate your embarrassment and I shall try not to add to it, either tonight or later."

A curse met the two man as they entered the Wagner suite; she said there had been no change. She and the father left Sam alone. From the direction in which they had gone came a voice which the younger man did not at first recognize as Alanna's. It was throaty, flat, it droned along monotonously. Sam strained his ears but he could make out no words; all he could hear was an expressionless, unexacting stream of sound, the very quality of which affrighted him.

The nurse reappeared, after a few minutes, and beckoned to him; on tiptoe he followed her down a short hall and into a bed chamber. Near the window a doctor and a second nurse were whispering with Albert Wagner. When Sam appeared the doctor moved to the bedside and spoke in a resonant voice.

"Here he is, Miss Wagner. . . . Alanna! Here is Mr. Lee. Don't worry any more; he has come to see you. Alanna! Sam Lee! Don't you understand? He's right here in the room." The sick girl continued to mutter.

Sam's breath lay still in his lungs. He gazed at the flushed face on the pillow, a prey to emotions suitable only for his soul to experience and for the gods to see. Anguish and compassion spread from his eyes. At a motion from the physician he moved forward to the father's side, but Alanna did not recognize him. Her lips, behind her expressionless stare was terrifying. As the doctor ran on, repeating Sam's name over and over, the girl frowned in a troubled manner, her hands moved restlessly. Sam lifted one of them in his and it burned him.

"Alanna!" Nothing is more appalling than a stricken mind. The total blankness in Alanna's glassy unfocused eyes aroused a terrible fear in the speaker, and a desperate yearning to aid her. His voice issued strongly but tenderly from his aching throat. "Alanna! Wake up, oh Thousand Pieces of Gold! I'm here and your hand is in mine. Don't worry any more, dear. I heard you calling and I came to you. Alanna! Sam is here."

Her hot fingers closed over his, and pulled weakly at them, the free hand groped in his direction; she uttered a peevish complaint. One of the nurses whispered:

"She wants him to hold her. Put your arm around her, Mr. Lee."

"Try it," the doctor ordered. Sam turned a wide, tortured face towards the father, who closed his eyes and nodded. "Your pardon," the young man said.

Alanna's head rolled, she cried out fitfully and lifted her arms. Sam bent lower and they encircled his neck; he felt her feverish cheek touch his. Promptly he forgot everything else. A wave of tenderness swept over him, gently he seized himself on the edge of the bed and took her to his breast. He murmured to her in a tone softer than any woman's and she breathed a sigh of contentment, her limbs dropped, closed.

The nurse who had spoken before deftly readjusted the pillows and the covers, then whispered:

"Hold her as long as you can, and keep talking to her. It's the first time in twenty-four hours that her tongue has stopped. Don't let her begin again. It burns out her vitality."

If a doubtful if Sam heard the admonition. Until an instant before he had been keenly aware of these strangers in the room and aware of Albert Wagner's presence. Some hand had throbbed him. But in the agony of this heartbreak he forgot them all. He and Alanna were alone.

Dazedly he asked himself what punishment was this that the gods had put upon him. Were they utterly impassible? Has thought of himself were less than momentary, this suffering so far from a future in his arms was being tortured. For she had received more from him than his. Pity dissolved him. Poor little scorned and cast! Brave little white rose! She had faced the first sneer, had withered her, she dropped now and perished for the den. Sam found coolness only in his touch and his tears. Hope could quench her thirst.

The nurse reappeared, after a few minutes, and beckoned to him; on tiptoe he followed her down a short hall and into a bed chamber. Near the window a doctor and a second nurse were whispering with Albert Wagner. When Sam appeared the doctor moved to the bedside and spoke in a resonant voice.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

GRADUATE YOUR EXERCISE

People who are beginning to take up exercising usually make the mistake of overdoing it at first. When muscles have not been flabbered up for years they may become stiff and sore for several days after only a few minutes of heavy exercising. Those who take up exercising too suddenly usually quit just as suddenly, for when they feel the aches and pains that have been brought on by overdoing it, they conclude that exercise has bring greater strength for everybody else, but it just isn't their medicine.

I always find it necessary to advise persons, enthusiastic patients to begin very gradually with exercise, taking it first in moderate amounts and gradually adding more as the strength permits. In this way, exercise builds up without over-tiring, and one reaps the full benefit of added strength and endurance.

When exercise is doing you good, it makes you feel bright, your cheeks ruddy, the skin does not look fagged, there is a spring to the walk, the patient enjoys life, feels renewed vigor, sleeps well, and comes to meals hungry as a bear.

The signs of over-exercising are: The eyes are dulled, the face looks pinched, the skin grayish, the patient feels tired, is irritable, doesn't want to sleep, snaps at the least excuse, and is too keyed up to sleep.

The prime test for exercising is not how tired it makes you, but how good it makes you feel after a full meal it makes you feel alert, active and disinclined to move the next day, then you have over exercised. Those whose vitality is low cannot afford to exercise to the point of exhaustion. In exercising you must learn when you are exhausting your own strength limits. Exercise as much as you can, but don't overdo it. Exercises should be taken until you feel a pleasant glow, but when you exercise beyond this stage by simply trying to see how much you can do you may become so keyed up that you cannot rather relax.

Do not make the mistake of thinking that if a moderate amount of exercise makes you feel good, a great deal of it will make you feel better. Quite contrary, time many people make the mistake of swimming, hiking or dancing until they are sore in every thigh. It would be much better if they took their sports less strenuously. On the other hand, it is not a good plan to take a few exercises and never increase the number. Begin slowly, and as your muscles become stronger, either take the exercises harder or take more each time. In this way you can see your strength gradually increasing. You feel encouraged. This is the way to build strength and vitality that is lasting.

One of the finest methods is to take short sections of exercise morning and evening. Do this every day and take a daily walk. Two or three times a week try to get in a good tramp or swim. Follow this with a brisk shower and rub-down with a towel and you will be a good night's sleep. If you have been careful not to play too hard, such a programme will make you feel up on your toes and "on top of the world." That is the reward of correct exercising.

ONLY TWO BODIES ARE LOCATED BY DIVERS

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—The probability that six members of the crew of the tanker Pinthis were crushed by the gasoline fire, which followed upon the collision of the tanker with the steamer Fairfax, off Scituate, June 10, appeared today from an announcement by representatives of the owners of both ships. The announcement said two divers, who descended to the sunken tanker on August 1, searched every accessible part of the ship and found only two bodies, which were brought to the surface.

As a result of the findings of the divers, no further diving operations will be undertaken, the statement issued by a law firm said. The crew of ten on the Pinthis disappeared when the tanker collided. Two bodies, found floating on the ocean after the disaster which claimed fifty lives, were identified as members of the Pinthis. The statement today said the Pinthis was lying in ninety feet of water.

TRAWLERS TRY NEW METHODS OF FISHING

NORTH SYDNEY, Aug. 6.—The team trawlers which come out annually from France and Spain to the Grand Banks, this year are trying an experiment new to them. In other years these trawlers fished on the local banks, coming in here for coal, oil and salt, but this season they went to the Iceland and Greenland banks for their fish, in the belief that, as the water gets warmer, the fish go farther north to a lower temperature.

Fishing so far from port, the trawlers receive necessary supplies through a "mother ship." This boat leads up with a cargo of salt or coal, taking it to the fleet.

North Sydney misses these fishermen considerably, as on an average of one a day the team trawlers in other years called at this port. Whether or not this new experiment will be a success remains to be seen. Before they return to Europe the trawlers will probably call at this port for bunker.

Average Industrial Wage Showed Increase in 1929 Labor Report Indicates

The 10,000,000 increase in the industrial payrolls of the province for the year 1929 was accompanied by a gain in the average wage paid to adult males in most lines of industry, J. D. McKenzie, Deputy Minister of Labor, states in a report presented to Hon. A. McKenzie, this week. The average weekly wage in industry rose from $28.04 to $29.20 during the period, thus continuing a steady advance through the years from 1919, when the average wage in this class was $27.57.

Other factors brought out in the report show a slight decrease in the number of English-speaking workers employed, and a gain in the number of employees from Continental Europe and the Far East. Wage increases were secured in industries such as mining, manufacturing, and to a lesser extent in building trades, laundries, cleaning and dyeing, leather and fur goods, metal mining, paint making, pulp and paper and shipbuilding.

In sixteen instances the weekly wage increased, and in nine it decreased, the reductions including through a "mother ship." This boat leads up with a cargo of salt or coal, taking it to the fleet.

North Sydney misses these fishermen considerably, as on an average of one a day the team trawlers in other years called at this port. Whether or not this new experiment will be a success remains to be seen. Before they return to Europe the trawlers will probably call at this port for bunker.

decreases in the number of females employed were shown in cigar and tobacco manufacturing, leather and fur goods, miscellaneous trades and industries, and in the manufacture of food products, while increases were noted in Coast shipping, house furnishing, laundries, cleaning and dyeing, metal trades and printing and publishing. In the other groups the employment of females remained about the same.

FLUCTUATION IN 1929

The peak month for the year changed from August, in 1928, to July, in 1929, with the number gainfully employed at 98,140, this being 4,004 more than for the previous year. A gradual decline is noticed up to November, where a sharp drop takes place, followed by a more pronounced decline for the month of December. The figures for December show there were 1,253 more employed than in the first month of the year: January again being the month of least employment.

The peak month for the lumber industries changed from October in 1928 to May in 1929, with a total of 27,041 employed. Coal mining moved to March, 1929, from October, 1928; Coast shipping from December, 1928, to July, 1929.

The period of highest employment in the food products group, was August, the same month as for 1928.

AVERAGE WAGE IN 1929

The average industrial wage covering a full week's work for all adult male employees again advanced over the preceding year from $28.66 in 1928 to $29.20 for 1929.

This average is calculated from figures supplied by each firm for the week of employment of the greatest number, and represents the pay for a full week's work. The actual earnings in many cases would at certain seasons of the year be lower, owing to stoppages or broken time. On the other hand, many employees would receive larger amounts on occasions when overtime was being worked. Striking a general average for all occupations covered by the returns received, we arrive at the following figures:

1918	$27.97	1918	$29.11
1920	31.51	1921	27.62
1922	27.39	1923	28.05
1924	28.39	1925	27.82
1926	27.99	1927	28.29
1928	28.66	1929	29.20

The tables showing the nationality of employees have changed from the previous year. Natives of English-speaking countries decreased from 72.65 per cent in 1928 to 70.34 per cent in 1929. Those from Continental Europe increased to 18.56 per cent in 1929 from 17.63 per cent in 1928. Natives of Canada and Newfoundland again took an upward turn, rising from 38.07 per cent in 1928 to 38.17 per cent from 1929. The percentage of those from the British Isles again fell, the figures being 29.75 per cent, as against 30.85 for 1928.

ASIATICS INCREASE

The percentage of Asiatics employed shows an increase for the first time since 1926, rising to 10.01 per cent from 9.33 per cent in 1928, the actual number employed being 12,258 for 1929, an increase of 1,520 over the previous year. Chinese employees increased by 251, Hindus by 156 and Japanese by 1,113.

The groups which show a greater number of Canadian workers are: Breweries, cigar and tobacco manufacturing, Coast shipping, contracting, food products, garment making, house furnishing, jewelry manufacturing, leather and fur goods, lumber industries, metal trades, metal mining, miscellaneous trades and industries, oil refining, paint manufacturing, printing and publishing, pulp and paper manufacturing, ship building, smelting and the manufacture of wood.

The groups where natives of Great Britain and Ireland lead are: Builders' materials, coal mining, explosives, laundries, etc., and the public utility group.

The garment making and miscellaneous trades and industries switched from the British to the Canadian group, otherwise the groups remain the same.

MANY NATIONALITIES

Some notable changes are seen in the tables concerning natives of Continental Europe. Natives of Belgium increased from 342 in 1928, to 276 in 1929. France has a decrease of eight, the total being 656. Italy again has a loss this time of twenty-eight, having 2,658 for 1929. Germany's total is now 1,001, an increase of 225 over the preceding year. Austria-Hungary makes another sharp advance from 1,135 to 1,808 in 1929, an increase of 672. Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland and other Scandinavian countries increased by 1,419, there being now 11,932 employed. Natives of Russia again made an advance this year, from 4,656 in 1928 to 4,623 for 1929.

CHANGES IN WAGE RATES

The most outstanding change in the average full week's wages took place in the jewelry manufacturing industry, where the advance amounted to $4.13 per week, followed by cigar and tobacco manufacturing, of $3.81. Increases of over $1 per week were recorded in the following groups: Builders' materials, laundries, cleaning and dyeing, leather and fur goods, metal mining, paint manufacturing, pulp and paper, and shipbuilding industries. Other increases were in Coast shipping, garment making, oil refining, smelting, utility group and in the manufacture of wood.

The principal decreases were found in explosives and chemicals, which amounted to $1.62, followed by metal trades, $1.54; breweries, $1.18; and food products, $1.14. Three having decreases of under $1 were coal mining, contracting, house furnishing, miscellaneous trades and industries, and printing and publishing.

MANY APPRENTICED

The number of apprentices in industry again increased over the previous year, this time by forty-eight, there being a total of 1,878 thus classified at the end of 1929.

During the year 1929 the proportion of females employed in industry fell from 8.75 per cent to 8.06,

PERCY MAKES FAST TIME AT POLICE MEET

JOHN CAMERON WINS 16-POUND SHOT PUT

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 6.—Percy Williams raced only once, by invitation, during the Canadian Police athletic championships today, but he stole most of the thunder. The Vancouver flash, racing for the first time this season in Eastern Canada, only twenty-four hours after getting off a train from Vancouver, easily defeated the best of his Canadian sprinting rivals when he speed the 100 yards in 9 4-5 seconds. A yard behind at the wire was Johnny Fitzpatrick, Hamilton; and in third place, ahead of three more ranking sprinters, came W. Bordeau, Montreal policeman.

The big crowd gave a great ovation to the slim young man who brought honour to Canada when he captured the Olympic sprinting titles two years ago.

J. Cameron, of New Westminster, scored a victory in the 16-pound shot put, at 40 feet 1 inch, better than A. Stewart's throw. He was second to Stewart in the discus throw. Stewart won the discus throw at 110 feet 1 inch, and the javelin throw at 150 feet.

Major Richardson Has Birthday in East

TORONTO, Aug. 6.—Major Fred Richardson, of Victoria, B.C., president of the British Columbia Rifle Association and commonly known to Canadians as "Father" Richardson, is celebrating his birthday at the Long Branch ranges today. He gives his age as "somewhere between sixty and seventy."

Major Richardson, who was born in England, has been in the Canadian militia for thirty-eight years and has represented the Dominion at Bisley fourteen times. He was last there in 1928, when he carried off some notable awards. Except when he is at Bisley, he comes to the Ontario matches almost every year.

GROVER ALEXANDER AGAIN FREE AGENT

Former Major League Pitcher Is Released for Third Time This Season

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 6.—Grover Cleveland Alexander, once one of baseball's greatest pitchers, has been released for the third time this season.

He was notified by the Toledo American Association Club last night that his services were no longer desired. He had never even worn a Toledo uniform.

Old Pete was released by the Dallas team of the Texas League several weeks ago, after being taken out of the box. He previously had been given his freedom by the Philadelphia Nationals.

Then the Toledo Mud Hens signed him up. Alexander was to have pitched his first game at Toledo Sunday. Photographers were there, even sound devices, and the park was filled with thousands who attended in order to greet the former world series hero in his much bally-hooed comeback attempt. But he failed to appear.

It was learned that Alexander came here on Friday on his way to Toledo, and that he had been under the care of a nurse ever since. She declined to say who was with him or what the nature of his illness was. She merely said he was a very sick man.

New York Stocks Decline; Failure of Corn Crop Hits Farm Implement Industries

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—The stock market was unable to find much cheer in the wild bull movement of grain today and share prices sagged almost steadily in another phenomenalic session.

The heaviness of stocks was well distributed, although the utilities suffered the largest average loss. American Telephone, American & Foreign Power, Western Union, Consolidated Gas and Electric Power lost 2 to 3 points and American Waterworks nearly 3.

Farm implement shares seemingly reacted on the prospects of financial losses to farmers. International Harvester and Caterpillar Tractor slumped 3 points and J. I. Case 5. American Can and Continental Can took 2 points.

The steels met steady pressure. United States Steel at its highest of the day was only even with yesterday's close, and dropped 3 points from that figure, closing at 168 3-8 for a net loss of 2 3-4. Vanadium lost 3 and Bethlehem more than 1.

There were net declines of 2 points or more in General Electric, Westinghouse Electric, Mack Truck, Johns-Manville, Freiman, Kodak, Groupe American Tobacco and Gillette Safety Razor. General Motors and Radio eased irregularly.

Shippings Reliance sacrificed fresh gains and fell to another new low at 83 3-4. Atchison, Rock Island, New York Central, Illinois Central and Union Pacific were in steady tone but remained breaking away from 2 points.

There was no gold movement today. The French franc eased slightly, but sterling cables held firmly.

With the available supply of the highest grade railroad bonds thinned out, investment demand spread to second issues today. A score of more attractive issues showed advances lifting by a few utility issues.

BANKS WILL FINANCE UNSOLD 1929 WHEAT

Bank Managers, Prairie Premiers and Premier Bennett Arrive at Agreement in Toronto

TORONTO, Aug. 6.—That Canadian banks had promised to carry the unsold balance of the 1929 wheat crop and that the arrangement were satisfactory was the statement issued by Premier John Bracken of Manitoba, following a conference here today between chief managers of leading banks and the Premiers of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan. Wheat Pool officials of Western Canada were in conference with Premier Bracken, when asked if whether the Government of the Prairie Provinces would renew the guarantees for the pool to the banks, which expired August 1, said: "There has been no request made for guarantees from the pool and it is not anticipated that a new guarantee will be required.

THE CARRY-OVER.

"The guarantees were to cover the whole crop and the only difficulty now through a small portion of it not having been delivered at the end of the crop year, July 31. It is concerning that portion that we have been having conference with the banks. The banks and the pools are carrying on with respect to the balance of the 1929 crop exactly as they did prior to July 31," Mr. Bracken explained.

In answer to the question, "Has the pool too much money on the 1929 crop?" he replied: "That question cannot be answered until the balance of the crop is sold. If the price goes much lower there will probably be a loss, but if the price goes higher there will be no loss."

CROP ESTIMATES

A bigger crop than last year, but one smaller than 1928, was predicted for the West by Premier Bracken. "The estimates run from 325,000,000 to 400,000,000 bushels. It is too early yet to make an accurate forecast. The crop will be small if it will be nearer the smaller figure."

The price to be paid by the pool stated that there was no sign of any change in the tariff barriers keeping out Canadian grain from Italy, Germany and other continental countries. Notice of any change developments reported between pool representatives and Great Britain for the sale of Canadian wheat.

CORN CROSSES DOLLAR LINE ON CHICAGO MART

Wheat Also Swings Upward —No Great Recession Is Expected

COARSE GRAINS ALSO SCORE BIG ADVANCES

(B.C. Bond Corporation, Ltd.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—General commission house buying swung the wheat market sharply and shorts made more competition when they tried to cover than they expected. Huge further upturns were scored in prices and all the profit taking hedging and sales against weekly and daily offers were easily absorbed. The market looked a little with some public participation and it will take active buying to maintain the rallies at this time. However, with the change in general conditions due to the record drought in this country, the evidence that things have a much smaller crop than supposed, and with Canadian reports also more bullish, with a tendency to lower estimates, we doubt if wheat will have any big recession from this level.

It is extremely significant that primary receipts are falling off so decidedly. It will be interesting to see if the country movement of wheat increases materially at the Western primary receipts were over 3,381,000 bushels against 5,845,000 a year ago. Local receipts were only 234 cars.

Fair amount of export business reported. Weekly Bradstreet report was regarded as more bullish. Canadian Pacific has made much of the grain trade situation and that a healthy market condition will prevail from now on, with purchases suggested on setbacks. Some wide price swings, however, are to be expected.

Corn: Confirmation of damage to the crop with the recent rains failing to effectually relieve the drought to any extent, sent the market tremendous upturn. The rash market kept away with the futures, or more, and there was a fair additional demand, while country offering were a little larger.

Receipts here were estimated at 275 cars with primary receipts of 434,000 bushels against 1,304,000 a year ago. The advance in corn has been greater than most of the bulls looked for and we would be inclined to look for some quite sizeable reaction from the top, and we would be for the market on good selling.

Oats: advanced about as rapidly as corn. The large spectacular rise seems to be more fully realized. Cash receipts were fair and offerings are light. Receipts, however, at the moment are fairly large.

Rye scored big advances. Numerous stops advanced as short, and not now fewer than a year ago. The short situation will tend to govern rye prices.

Tape Topics

"The pay of Hamlet with the ghost left out." Very much like that are some of the accounts given of the industrial and commercial situation in Canada this year. For instance, President J. T. Crowder, addressing the convention of the Retail Merchants of Canada, on Tuesday, in explanation of the reduced volume of retail business said that "the excess amount of wheat held over from last year the stock market crash, overproduction, the natural business cycle, and the increase in unemployment."

Mr. Crowder has left out what is the most potent single element in the situation, and, one should think the most obvious. The total income of the people of Canada was reduced last year, as compared with that of the preceding year, by a sum well up toward half a billion dollars; as a result of a sweeping decline to the price of wheat and other grains, combined with a reduction of about one half in the yield available for marketing.

In 1928 the market value of the wheat, oats and other grains produced in the Prairie Provinces was, at a conservative estimate, $700,000,000. The wheat available for export was alone worth more than $500,000,000. That was not so much money merely changing hands as it was a real estate boom or on the stock exchange. It was new wealth, tangible and visible, standing in the fields where six months before there had been bare prairie. Perhaps one hall a billion dollars were brought into Canada from the country which purchased the grain or the flour produced from it.

That money went first of all to the transportation companies and to the farmers. From them, in turn, it made their purchases. It went directly or indirectly to every part of Canada and to every class of people. It went to lumber dealers and lumber manufacturers, to loggers and their employers in camps on Vancouver Island and elsewhere; it went to Scandinavian fruitgrowers and farmers in the Okanagan; it went to retail stores, to wholesalers, and to manufacturers. These to turn made other purchases. There was a corresponding effect on business conditions and the demand for labor in the first half of 1929.

Last year the crop available for export was reduced by nearly one half. At the same time there was a surplus of grain produced in the world as a whole which resulted in a decline to the price of wheat. There was a reduction of some 300,000,000 bushels in the prairie crop, and a reduction in price equivalent to the loss of another 100,000,000 so far as the purchasing power of the people of Canada was concerned. The result of this has been felt from the West Coast of Vancouver Island to the shores of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. That the business of the country has endured this as well as it has is a magnificent testimony to the sound foundations upon which it rests and a striking evidence of the increased productive of wealth in other fields than agriculture and from other natural resources than the soil.

This year the crop estimate is at present for about 100,000,000 bushels of wheat more than last year, and there is, in addition, something like another 100,000,000 bushels of wheat which was held over from last year, or a total of some 400,000,000 in all, available for export.

Wheat, corn, barley, oats and rye are largely interchangeable. They are substituted one for another to a great extent, not only as feed for livestock and poultry, but as food for mankind. In Italy and Mexico, corn; and in other countries, barley or rye flour, or meals used as substitutes for wheat in making bread. They are used because they are cheaper. But corn today in Chicago, as a result of the drought, is selling not at fifty cents a bushel, but at one dollar. Wheat in large quantities will be substituted for feeding purposes in the United States, and for bread flour in other countries. European grain crops are also disappointing this year, present information indicates. What the yield of the Canadian crop will be, and at what price it will be sold, cannot yet be definitely known. The crop is not yet harvested, and returns from Europe are not yet complete. But the prospect outlook very much better than that of last year.

DAIRY MERGER IN VANCOUVER IS UNDER WAY

Combination to Control 94 Per Cent of Vancouver Milk Supply

FRASER VALLEY UNION DIRECTORS AID PLAN

They controls 94 per cent of Vancouver's milk supply.

The merger proposes to effect economies in distribution that will contribute to stabilization of milk prices, which are lower than to any other city of its class.

The directors of the Fraser Valley Dairies have also approved the merger, said the president and manager, Mr. Thomas J. Rae. The directors are meeting with the producers' local in the dairy organization to explain the proposal to the shareholders. The first meeting is being held tonight at Chilliwack.

SERVICES DUPLICATED

Mr. Park said: "The farmer producing milk realized received a lower price and continue to produce. The dairy business is represented by twenty dairies, most raise prices if he is to continue in business under the present conditions of duplication. The only alternative is a merger of the dairies, or amalgamation to distribution."

He summarized the various factors which go into the cost of producing milk as follows: Farmer's cost, Mr. Park points out that the cost of dairy labor in British Columbia is 50 to 150 per cent higher than in other parts of Canada.

HIGHER COSTS

The cost of clearing and draining entails large capital expenditures, and the necessity of importing feed and the long freight haul contribute is also a large factor to increasing prices, he said. Mr. Park states that it is a well known fact that local labor costs are considerably higher. He points out that the manufacturing costs of Eastern dairy products, butter, cheese, condensed milk, etc., with low labor costs and the low freight rates, enable Eastern dairy-men to dump their surplus in British Columbia market with results to local producers.

Mr. Park states that the average price for the past year paid to British Columbia dairymen for pound butter fat is 46 1-2 cents, and that it is certainly that they will be compelled to accept even less for the current year. Mr. Park points out that only 50 per cent of the production on the Lower Mainland is sold in fluid form. The remaining 50 per cent is manufactured at a loss of approximately 20 per cent below the price received if the entire production were sold in fluid form.

Mr. Nagle: "Rationalization is that marriage is a preventive of suicide."

Mr. Nagle: "Yes, and statistics also prove that suicide is a preventive of marriage."

Corn Prices Rise 1 Cent Each Minute

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Something like the spirit of yesterday came back at the grain pits today. Drought in the corn fields and fuzz in the bean fields brought traders fighting for allow room in the board of trade pits to bid for wheat and corn with a fervor not seen for three months.

Wheat, whose value had ebbed to twenty months until it sold a week ago at $2.3-8 onsle a bushel, the lowest in sixteen years, spurted up 3 cents a bushel from yesterday's close and was 13 cents above the record low. Corn kept ahead of the pacemaker, adding 6½-8 to 7-8 cents a bushel to its worth and selling at 4½-3 cents better than yesterday.

Frantic traders shouted themselves hoarse in the corn pit, exactly buying orders, with public participation in the market doubled from yesterday. In the corn pit the advance was so rapid that a cent a minute was added in one brief interval.

REGINA IS OFFERED NATURAL GAS SUPPLY

Application Is Made to City for Right to Sell Gas Piped From Alberta Wells

(B.C. Bond Corporation Ltd.)

Northern Utilities and Dominion Gas Company have made application to the city of Regina for right to sip natural gas from Alberta to that city. At present quantities of this valuable product is being wasted in the Alberta oil fields.

Prompt action by the Dominion Government on the report of the committee on waste gas to Alberta was recommended by the Canadian Engineering section at the thirteenth annual Canadian Chemical Convention at Toronto recently. Discussing the Turner Valley gas wastage, Mr. Hazzel, chief of the division of fuels of the Department of Mines, estimated the quantity of waste gas at 300,000,000 cubic feet a day. His suggested this gas could be used for production of electrical energy on a large scale. A local company in Victoria is now distributing natural gas in tanks for use in cooking, lighting, heating and steel cutting. The average grade treated was 8.3 per cent lead, 12 per cent zinc and 1 ounce of silver to the ton. Despite low metal prices the company was able to make an operating profit of $17,200, the gross profit being $20,643, and expenses $22,353 or less than 40 per ton ore handled. The low operating costs at Base Metals co-operating some comments in the East, where millions of dollars have been wasted in economical mining. On gross milling basis of 300 tons per day, it is estimated costs will run approx. $2.80 per ton, and if the concentrates are shipped up to 500 tons, it is understood costs would be reduced to under $1.75 per ton.

"The process at certain developed properties, particularly those at Big Missouri and Monarch properties, are being watched with interest. Big Missouri might become an important gold producer and the measures attained at this property in the field result in renewed investigation of many similar type properties in the Salmon River area." Big Missouri officials have already announced that a test mill will be erected, but no further details, such as size, have been issued. An announcement of this is expected soon.

The centenary of the passing of the use of slavery as a method of punishment was observed in London this year, and especially at the famous Old Bailey, near where the last one stood. In that option punishment was revived, after being in disfavor for twelve years, when a sentence including the pillory was passed on a prisoner, a very frame having to be constructed because the old one had disappeared. The pillory, as last used, consisted of a platform raised about six feet from the ground, with a wooden post, was an upright post, which revolved on a pivot, and with a board fixed to its side, with holes for the head and hands of the prisoner. When the unhappy wretch had been fixed in position, he had to keep walking round, thus pushing the mechanism.

RELIC OF EIELSON IS BROUGHT TO SEATTLE

Arctic Adventurer Returns With Battered Pilot's Seat of Ill-Fated Plane

SEATTLE, Aug. 6.—After three years in the Siberian Arctic, Jim Crooks, sailor and adventurer, was in Seattle today with the battered pilot's seat of the airplane that carried Colonel Carl ben Eielson and Earl Borland to their deaths in the wastes of the Far North, and mementos of experiments he never will forget.

He arrived late Saturday night aboard the little power schooner Nanuk, which came into port looking as trim as a yacht. Not a scar on her hull or superstructure to tell of her eleven months to the grim grip of the ice floes of the Arctic was visible. Even her crew's appearance was in keeping with her. Her hull was cleaned, painted and well kept by an industrious crew. She looked as if she had come from the shipyards.

"I thought the relations or friends of Eielson and Borland would want a memento or souvenir of their last flight, so I salvaged the pilot's seat of the wrecked airplane," said Crooks. "It was about the only piece of the machine that was left after the crash with Eielson and Borland died."

Crooks went to Siberia three years ago in the schooner Nanuk, which was sold to the Russians. He signed on the Nanuk to get to Alaska and was eleven months on the journey.

"When did I do during the long Winter in Siberia? Well, I was busy most of the time adding to the hunt for the lost airplane and salvaging the cargo from the wrecked schooner Elsiff. I had a team of seventeen dogs and made frequent trips from the Nanuk."

FORTUNE IN FUR

Captain R. H. Weeding brought the Nanuk into her berth at the Bell Street Terminals of the Port Commission, where she was the center of interest of the Sunday crowds on the waterfront. The little vessel brought a fortune in mink, squirrel, fox, ermine and polar bear skins, which were being discharged today. Olaf Swenson, owner of the Nanuk, met her at Nome and came to Seattle on the little trader. The Nanuk will shift into Lake Union in a few days, where she will ride at anchor until next Spring, when she will again head for the Siberian Coast.

The Signal Passed Along

—By THORNTON W. BURGESS—

Obedience without delay
You'll find to be the muskrat way.
—Jerry Muskrat.

Peter Rabbit spent a lot of time around the Smiling Pool. You see Peter was greatly interested in the school there, for really there was a school in the Smiling Pool. There were two teachers—Jerry Muskrat and Mrs. Muskrat. Nine little Muskrats went to that school. Of course, they didn't call it a school. But after all, any place where you learn lessons is a school, and these little Muskrats were being taught lessons every day.

It was surprising how fast they grew. It was quite necessary that they should learn as fast as they grew. Otherwise, they would become grown up without being really fitted to take care of themselves. Peter, just from watching, got so that he understood some of the signals. He was over there just at dusk one evening. Jolly, round, red Mr. Sun had gone to bed behind the Purple Hills, and the Black Shadows had crept across the Green Meadows and over the Smiling Pool. It was all very calm and quiet and shadowy there. Presently the first little star came peeping out and was reflected in the water.

Nowhere could Peter see anything of the Muskrats. Jerry wasn't to be seen; Mrs. Muskrat wasn't to be seen; none of the little Muskrats were to be seen. After a while Peter began to wonder where they were. It was just such a night as Muskrats love. Could it be that something had happened to one or more of the family and the rest were hiding? Peter grew uneasy. patient. However, patience does not hold out forever, and at last Peter made up his mind that he would go over to the Green Forest for a while. Peter was just about to start when he heard clearly but faintly a sound which he recognized. It was the sound made by a flat tail being slapped on the water. The sound came from down the Laughing Brook where the Beaver Pool. Immediately the sound was repeated but was much louder. This time it came from back of the Big Rock in the Smiling Pool. And then right away came a whole series of little slaps. They were not so loud, because they were made by small tails. These slaps came from up among the bulrushes at the upper end of the Smiling Pool. After that all was still.

Peter stared right where he was. He didn't move.

Peter sat right where he was. He didn't move. In a moment or two it seemed as if a shadow—a flying shadow—passed across the Smiling Pool. Peter held his breath. Inside he was saying, "That was Hooty the Owl. Jerry Muskrat must have seen him and gave the signal down there in the Laughing Brook. Mrs. Muskrat must have been behind the Big Rock, heard the signal and passed it along. The nine children over there in the bulrushes heard that and each passed the signal along. So by the time Hooty the Owl got up here every little Muskrat was hidden."

All this Peter said to himself inside, taking the greatest care not to move so much as a whisker or to make a sound of any kind. You know Peter knows all about the wonderful eyes of Hooty the Owl and how will he can see at a time when most other people can see very little. Peter was quite right in his understanding of those signals. Jerry Muskrat had seen Hooty the Owl and had passed the signal down to Mrs. Muskrat. She, in turn, had passed the signal on to the little Muskrats and they, because they had been trained, had at once hidden and remained hidden.

By and by Peter heard a squeak. It was Mrs. Muskrat. It was answered by a number of little squeaks. These were from the little Muskrats. Their mother had told them that the danger was past.

Advertised Brands Are Always Best

"Yes . . . . I always recommend advertised brands . . . . and I'll tell you why---I want my customers to get good goods.

"Advertised brands are the best value you can buy. In every line they lead in quality. They have to.

"Do you think a manufacturer goes on drawing people's attention to his product by advertising it if it isn't A1 quality? Certainly not---the very fact that he advertises it is a guarantee that it is a good product.

"Why are advertised brands purchased time and time again by the same people?

"Why are the trade-marks of advertised brands so well known everywhere?

"Simply because the public has proved by actual test that advertised brands are the best goods money can buy.

"I know I could make more money by selling my customers an inferior substitute, but I could do it only once. They don't come back a second time.

"No . . . . Substitution doesn't pay.

Of course advertisers recognize that the most effective means of keeping the Canadian public informed of the merits of advertised brands is the daily newspaper, because practically every Canadian family reads a daily newspaper every day

"AEROPLANE HOUSE" READY

One of England's most peculiar houses has just been completed high on a hill at Amersham. It is a large building shaped like the letter T, and was erected for Professor Bernard Aitchnie, who is Professor of Archaeology at London University. It is known locally as the "Aeroplane House" from its shape. Built of compressed straw and bricks, it is painted with a white preparation resembling marble, which glistens in the sunlight and can be seen for miles around. On the flat roof are tennis courts, a bathing pool and a fountain. A water tower is nearly completed. Local people complained that it would be unsightly, but planted trees will hide it.

Tests by aviators have shown that radio waves are reflected downward by a layer of the atmosphere that varies in height from 50 to 130 miles.

Tenderers for Purchase Of Thiepval Now Waiting To Hear From Department

In February last, while the fishery patrol vessel, Thiepval, was on duty in West Coast waters on the look-out for possible shipwreck survivors, she struck a rock in one of the many channels in the Broken Group, between Turret and Turtle Islands. Slipping off the rock, the Thiepval sank in seven fathoms of water and was abandoned as a total loss.

Advertising for a purchaser of the wreck, the department at Ottawa stipulated that the gun, gun mounting, rifles, mine-sweeping winch and sweep wire were to be returned to the naval storekeeper at Esquimalt, the tenders to be open on July 31, when they would be opened and the successful tender notified. It is understood that several bids were forwarded to Ottawa, from Victoria and Vancouver parties, who are now waiting to hear the results, which should be announced any day.

NICTHEROY COMING

WITH GREATER CLOSE SEASON FISHING GOOD

Salmon Run Is More Than Holding Its Own, States Official

PACK IS BIGGEST OF THE LAST FIVE YEARS

VANCOUVER, Aug. 6.—Although the closed season this year was greater in the aggregate time than in the brood year in 1925, the salmon run is more than holding its own, says Major J. A. Motherwell, Chief Supervisor of Fisheries, in a statement issued this morning. "The pack is particularly gratifying," he declares. "The splendid supplies of salmon would appear to demonstrate the efficacy of conservation measures employed by the Dominion Department of Fisheries."

PINK PACK LARGE

The British Columbia Canned Salmon Pack Bulletin, issued by Major Motherwell's department, coincident with his statement, placed the total pack of salmon at 436,000 cases up to August 4. This indicates a total production of 102,431 cases of canned salmon from July 26 to August 1. The total production of salmon to August 1 was not exceeded at any corresponding date during the past five years. Besides sockeye, the largest variety now being canned is pinks, the total of which has now reached 241,712 cases. By varieties the pack is as follows: Sockeye, 109,546 cases; springs, 15,492; steelheads, 1,192; bluebacks, 29,252; cohoes, 31,194; pinks, 241,818; chums, 8,546.

New York Times Upholds Contention of McGill Professor In Discussion

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—Taking cognizance of the discussion over claims to the Arctic regions as set forth at the Williamson Institute of Politics by Dean F. E. Cortelet, of McGill University, and others, The New York Times says today: "There can scarcely be a 'clash over claims'."

Discussing the work Canada does in policing and settling the Northern regions, The Times says:

"The work Canada does is all in the line of following up discovery according to international law. How could she be challenged or disturbed by any sudden claiming title, but not anticipating her system of organization of some kind of government?"

MODEL OF NANAIMO MINE TO BE SHOWN

F. Boyd MacGill, display artist, of 1316 Broad Street, has dispatched to the Vancouver Exhibition for the Wellington Colliery Agency, Ltd., a working model of No. 1 coal mine, Nanaimo. The mechanical work, which is of a most ingenious nature, was made by W. Webster.

The shaft is modeled to the depth of four feet, showing the different strata, and the cages working up and down.

VESSEL MOVEMENTS

The Siberian Prince shifted from Brentwood last night to Chemainus, where she will complete cargo for the United Kingdom, according to King Bros., local shipping agents. The firm also reports the Wales Mary in on Sunday for a lumber cargo, and the Grace Line ship, Antinoe from Chilli with nitrate cargo for James Island, on Friday, August 15.

FRENCHMAN MAKES TEST

BARTROUVILLE, France, Aug 4 (Havas)—Jean Doria, French naval aviator, who hopes soon to make a transatlantic flight to the United States, cruised for four hours today in his hydro-airplane he will use and reported it was running well. On his return he consulted the weather bureau and indicated he might hop for the Azores, his first leg, this week.

PILOT OFF TO RETRIEVE BIG FOKKER PLANE

Machine Abandoned by Mac-Alpine Party Will Be Flown Back

WILL PROBABLY NEED SOME SMALL REPAIRS

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 6—Off to bring one of the super-Fokker aeroplanes abandoned at Cambridge Bay in the Arctic last September by the Richard MacAlpine party to this city, Pilot W. J. Buchanan of the Western Canada Airways, Limited, left here in another of the firm's big machines on Wednesday afternoon. He is accompanied by T. Gilmour, mechanic.

Pilot Buchanan expects that the trip will take about three weeks, but this depends upon the condition of the machine. In case it has been damaged during the long spell in the North, it will be given temporary repairs and then flown to Winnipeg. On the other hand, if it is found to be in working order, it will be brought to Edmonton.

STEAMSHIP SERVICES GET GOOD PATRONAGE

Travel continues to keep up on the passenger vessels plying in and out of Victoria, the ships carrying capacity late on all runs. The Ruth Alexander is due tomorrow night from California ports with all accommodation occupied, and according to W. A. Allen, local agent of the Pacific Steamship Company, has all berths taken for the return trip, leaving here on Sunday morning. On Friday afternoon, the Dorothy Alexander will be alongside Ballet Piers from 3 until 6, on her way north on her season's seventh Alaska excursion.

Leaving the Belleville Street wharf, arriving from England on a Grace Line ship recently, is being transported at no cost to Victoria by the shipping company, the Tillicum was in a bad way. In several places the hull had been stove in, while the house and the lashes to gain a little freeboard, decked over and schooner rigged, had carried Capt. J. C. Voss on a venturesome voyage around the world, is now set up in the open space on the north side of the Crystal Garden entrance, where it will bear eloquent testimony to the seaworthiness of a hollow tree trunk when shipped by a sailor of Captain Voss' courage and ability.

Dugout, Sailed Over Many Seas by Capt J. C. Voss Finds Final Resting Spot

After twenty-nine years, Tillicum has come home again, in the last cruising over. The Indian canoe, which was hollowed by natives of Vancouver Island out of a single cedar log, built up about twelve feet, decked over and schooner rigged, and carried Capt. J. C. Voss on a venturesome voyage around the world, is now set up in the open space on the north side of the Crystal Garden entrance, where it will bear eloquent testimony to the seaworthiness of a hollow tree trunk when shipped by a sailor of Captain Voss' courage and ability.

docks last night, the B.C. Coast Steamship Princess Maquinna, on her regular run to Port Alice and way ports on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, had a full complement of passengers, many of whom were round-trip tourists.

MINIATURE GOLF IS STEAMSHIP FEATURE

French Line Installs Nine-Hole Portable Course for Use Of Passengers

The miniature golf course, which has recently taken the country by storm, went to sea for the first time on Friday, August 1, with the departure from New York of the French Line flagship Ile de France, which sailed with a full nine-hole course, forty by fifty feet, installed on the spacious sun deck.

This paramount golf course, of which several hundred are in service throughout the country, is of artificial grass, its fairways obstructed by unique hazards in the form of imitation rocks, logs, etc. A net fence encloses the entire course, preventing over-enthusiastic players from driving into the vast water hazard known as the Atlantic.

The course is portable, can be set up in fifteen to twenty minutes and will be available for use of the passengers on the Belleville Street wharf.

Large Silk Shipment on Hikawa Maru—Ships Are Withdrawn and Replaced

The Mr. Hikawa Maru, Captain S. Akiyoshi, Nippon Yusen Kaisha line, inbound from Yokohama, berthed alongside Ogden Point Piers at 8 o'clock yesterday morning and departed for Seattle at 2.30 o'clock. There were several students, guests and a number of teachers aboard, returning from a cruise to the Orient. The liner had 4,150 bales of raw silk aboard, and 17 tons of silk goods, also had her share of mail, 156 of which were for Victoria.

As has been officially announced according to A. H. Hebb, local agent of the N.Y.K., that the Hikawa Maru and the Siberia Maru will be withdrawn, as was stated in The Colonist some time ago, and for the reasons stated there—lack of cargo facilities. The Korea Maru will not return again to the North Pacific Coast, and the sailing from Victoria on August 7 will be the last trip of the Siberia Maru, at least for some time.

The Yokohama Maru and the Shidzuoka Maru will replace the Hikawa Maru and the Siberia Maru. The Yokohama Maru will arrive here on August 21, and the Shidzuoka Maru on October 15.

AUSTRALIAN AVIATOR NOW REPORTED SAFE

BATAVIA, Java, Aug. 6—A. T. Cunningham, Australian aviator, was headed today for Port Darwin, after he had been unreported since yesterday.

Cunningham left Sydney August 1 on a solo flight to England. He landed at the coastal village of Boring today. On this hop he had left Wyndham, North Australia, for Bima at dawn yesterday, and since the flight involved several hundred dangerous miles over water, friends feared for his safety. Neither Cunningham nor the plane had any injury.

Beothic Battling Heavy Storms on Passage North

OTTAWA, Aug. 6.—The steamer Beothic, carrying the Department of Mines and the Hudson's Bay Company 1930 expedition to the posts in the Canadian Arctic archipelago, is battling storms about midway between Labrador and Southern Greenland on its dash across the North Atlantic, according to wireless dispatches received here. The first stop will be made at the Danish headquarters at Godthaven.

The expedition left North Sydney, N.S., last Thursday night, carrying Dominion Government scientists, administrative officers, and members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police for the 2,500-mile point of the trip, in Baffin, Devon and Ellesmere Island, and in Hudson Strait and Bay. As the Beothic is a well-constructed vessel and her crew is made up of most experienced seamen, no anxiety for the safety of the expedition is held here.

Feel yourself gliding on and on! Green-spired forests flash past and snowcapped mountains sail by the clouds — over the blue sky.

North Coast Limited motion—motion with that intangible quality which makes you unconscious of how it is accomplished, leaving you only a delightful sensation of mastery over space and time!

"Like our trip through the Cascade Mountains on the North Coast Limited was our sled ride amid the grandeur of Alaska," writes an American traveler. "It was a pleasant sensation to ride along on a smoothly running sled with high mountain scenery on all sides."

PUBLIC WORKS CONTRACTS LET

Two Tenders Accepted for Work at Oakalla and Lillooet

ADDITIONOL BIDS ARE IN

Contracts for electrical work at Oakalla Prison Farm, and for a Government liquor store at Lillooet, were signed by Hon. N. S. Loughead, Minister of Public Works, this week. Farr, Robinson & Bird were the successful tenderers on the Oakalla contract with a price of $1,716. The Mission Construction Company received the contract for the Lillooet vendors' store at $4,720.

One bid was received for the asphaltic mulch treatment of the ferry approach at Lasher, that opened yesterday, from the General Construction Company, of Vancouver, with a bid of $5,356.

Three additional tenders for the construction of two residences at Williams Lake, for the Departments of Agriculture and Public Works, respectively, were opened yesterday. The tenders had been received on time, but were overlooked in the rush when they lay. All three were added to other tenders received, for consideration.

In this group W. McKenzie tendered figures of $4,650 and $5,330 for the residences. H. Dawson put in a combined bid of $6,800 for both dwellings. Harry Burnham bid $4,418 and $5,560, respectively.

A. P. Anderson tendered vice late on the Williams Lake call for bids, and his tender was opened for identification and the return of the deposit. A similar course was taken with bids received too late from J. P. Downey and Mitchell & Currie, each tendering on the Hazelton lockup.

WILL EXPERIMENT IN SHOOTING ROCKETS TO EXTREME ALTITUDES

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Experiments in shooting rockets to extreme altitudes, financed by Daniel Guggenheim, will be carried on by Prof. Robert H. Goddard, of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., at Roswell, N.M. That site was selected because of favorable atmospheric conditions.

Prof. Goddard has been conducting rocket experiments since 1912 with the aid of the Smithsonian Institution, Clark University and the Carnegie Institute. Guggenheim recently made a grant to permit further work.

At Roswell, small rockets will be sent up first and finally one capable of ascending from fifty to seventy-five miles will be sent up by gas propulsion and with parachutes to regulate the speed of the return journey. The rockets will carry thermometers, barometers, electrical measuring apparatus, air traps to collect samples of air at various altitudes, and other instruments.

Pending completion of preparatory work it cannot be announced how soon the work will begin at Roswell.

HUMORING HIM

The secretary calmed down somewhat.

"It's Robinson, our traveler," he explained. "Used most insulting language. Told me to fry my face, and he said that you could go and chase yourself."

"He did, did he?" snapped the manager. "Will fire him without ceremony. Let's see, he's been with us for five months. What business has he done in that time?"

"A hundred pounds in the first month," said the secretary, reading from a book; "£500 the next month, £2,000 the next, and £9,000 the next."

"Hm," murmured the manager thoughtfully. "I often think I ought to take a little more exercise, and I decway the caretaker will give you a frying pan."

Of the seven conductors engaged to lead the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra this season at the Civic Auditorium, one will be a woman. Miss Antonia Brico, who recently enjoyed remarkable success in the direction at the Berlin (Germany) Philharmonic Orchestra, will have this distinction.
